Tax rebates in 2 weeks

The first of 78 million tax rebate checks will be mailed on May 9, Ira S. Loeb, IRS district director for Central and Southern Illinois, said Wednesday. The bulk of the mailings should be completed by the end of June, he estimated.

Loeb said taxpayers who filed returns the earliest will receive rebate checks first.

The payments stem from enactment of the Tax Reduction Act of 1975. It provides for a rebate of 1974 taxes of between $100 and $200 for most taxpayers. The IRS will automatically compute all rebates.

About 67 million taxpayers, Loeb said, will receive checks reflecting the rebate only. These include taxpayers who have already received their refunds for 1974 or whose refunds are already in process at IRS.

The other 11 million taxpayers will receive checks combining their refund with the rebate. These checks will show how much is refund and how much is rebate, Loeb said.

Under the new law the maximum rebate is 10 per cent of the tax liability up to a maximum rebate of $200, reduced by one per cent of adjusted gross income in excess of $20,000, up to $30,000.

Taxpayers with adjusted gross incomes in excess of $30,000 will receive a rebate of $100. Those who had a tax liability of less than $100 will receive a rebate equal to the tax liability.

Married persons filing separate returns will not get a larger rebate than those filing jointly since, under the law, the maximum rebate for a married person filing separately is $100.

Arley Hoffman, 35, of 711 Brown St., Venice, a street department worker, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital for observation at 10:05 a.m. Wednesday after being overcome by gas while cleaning a sewer.

He was saved from the ten-foot-deep sewer by the Venice rescue squad.

Hoffman was working inside a sewer, located near an alley at 1025 Third St., when he began to feel ill and asked a fellow workman for a ladder.

When the ladder was brought to the area, Hoffman was lying unconscious in the sewer.

Members of the Venice Fire Department rescue squad, police officers and an ambulance crew were called.

Fireman Jerry Sugg descended into the sewer and tied a rope around Hoffman's shoulders, enabling rescue team members to pull the man up and out of the manhole opening.

The team removed Hoffman's boots, covered him with a blanket and began administering oxygen, which revived him.

He was then taken by ambulance to the hospital, where he was said to be in satisfactory condition today.

BENTON STREET FIRE Monday night is fought by Granite City firemen. Several families were left homeless by the blaze which required nearly six hours to extinguish. The fire started when a faulty gas clothes dryer in this home exploded. Flames spread quickly to three other houses, two garages and an auto. Fire hoses here are directed to the home of the Lloyd Wetzel and John Bickl families.

Children safe in explosion, blaze

Fire in the 2300 block of Benton Street Monday night destroyed two houses, and seriously damaged two other houses, two garages and an auto.

The fire left about five families homeless and caused damage estimated at more than $66,000.

Two firemen suffered minor injuries.

Mrs. Deloris Bourbon, who resided at 2218 Benton St., one of the houses destroyed, said her youngest son, Jason, 3, went next door to play with the children there — Jason and Johnnie Wetzel, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wetzel, 2214 Benton, downstairs, and Andrea Bickl, 5, the daughter of John and Betty Bickl, 2214 Benton, upstairs.

The children went to the second floor of the back porch area and were playing when a gas clothes dryer on the first floor of the porch exploded and started the fire.

Mrs. Bourbon, who has five children, said she heard the loud explosion from next door and said one of her teenage daughters approached and said, "Oh my God, Mom. Something exploded over at the house."

Mrs. Bourbon related, "Naturally we started screaming and crying because we thought it was the kids. We ran out in the back yard and my husband (AD) saw the fire and started to run in.

"My daughter was pleading with him not to go in when Mrs. Bickl came to the upstairs door and called out 'Jason is OK,' she related.

Mrs. Bickl brought the boys down the steps and told her daughter to remain upstairs because flames from the fire were beginning to reach the including Venice Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold. Most spectators remained for the entire business session, which recessed at 11:30 p.m. for an executive meeting.

All but board members and school administrators are excluded from executive sessions, a fact openly resented by several in the audience when announced.

The open meeting resumed for a brief time at 12:15 a.m., long enough to officially hire a bus driver, three teacher's

Expedite Maryville Rd. project

The long-standing plan for extension of Maryville Road from Pontoon Road to Highway 162 got off the ground at a meeting of the Granite City Council Monday night.

Overriding a protest that the city should force the County Highway Department to adhere to a five-year-old agreement providing for a $350,000 city share of the cost, the aldermen approved a motion to employ an appraiser to begin acquiring right-of-way for the city portion of the improvement.

The action was taken on a motion by Alderman Gerald Parmley of the Sixth Ward who told the council that the county has acquired virtually all of the right-of-way needed to construct the county portion of the project.

"It is time the city gets to work on its phase of this project," Parmley said, adding that "We have enough money in the motor fuel tax fund that we can at least get started."

The Maryville Road project was planned in 1970 as a joint county-city project with the cost estimated at that time at $2 million. The City Council subsequently approved an agreement appropriating $350,000 in motor fuel tax funds to pay its share of the cost.

Since that time, however, construction costs have risen to such extent that the county now estimates the Granite City cost share at $800,000. Since the city's motor fuel tax fund has been low in recent years, the county in October 1974 suggested a plan under which the county would advance funds to the city to finance a part of the work. The city would repay the county from motor fuel tax funds as they are received from the state.

Alderman Walter Nann of the Fifth Ward objected Monday night to proceeding with the job under any arrangement differing from the original agreement. He cast the only negative vote on the motion to hire an appraiser to handle the right-of-way work. The motion carried 11 to 1.

"You can't just tear up a contract. When you sign a contract for a certain amount, that's what it means."

Graham's will move

Graham's Business Products, Inc., formerly known as Graham's Book Store, will be relocating from Niedringhaus and Delmar avenues, where it has conducted business since 1922, into the Belleme Village Shopping Center in mid-June or late June.

Officials of the company said yesterday they will be expanding from the present location, which has less than 2,000 square feet of selling space, into the 7,500-square-foot store presently occupied by Belleme True-Value Hardware.

The new store will carry expanded lines of office furniture, business machines, mimeograph and offset reproducing machines, cards, sporting goods and photographic supplies, it was announced.

Magazines were gone Wednesday from the present store and it has not been determined whether magazine sales will resume in the new location.

The building at 1915 Delmar presently occupied by Graham's was purchased within the last six months by Ernest A. Karandjeff Jr., who

Big new sewer break

A new sewer break of major proportions has developed in the eight-inch sanitary sewer line in the easement behind 2131 Amos ave., city officials disclosed this week.

News of the new break — the 39th in the Nameki area since the 1973 spring flooding — was given by the City Council Monday night by Alderman Clyde Boyd of the Third Ward, chairman of the council's Street and Alley Committee.

Lionel Portell, city street superintendent, told the Press-Record that the break apparently is a "complete collapse" of the sewer line and has blocked off the flow of sewage.

An electric pump was installed to carry sewage around the broken area and about two truckloads of rock and sand were dumped in the hole created when the sewer caved in, Portell said. The sewer at that point is about 12 or 13 feet under the surface, he said.

In addition, Portell reported, street department workers are keeping close watch on a depression in the ground surface indicating a possible break in a line on Faith Avenue between Nameki Road and Myrtle Avenue. This site has not been confirmed as sewer line break since there have been no reports of sewage backing up in homes in that vicinity.

The Amos Avenue break is the second major sewer line

A man armed with a small pistol stole about $45 from a clerk at the Grand Cleaners store at 2930 Nameki Road, (at Leonard Avenue) at 3:40 p.m. Tuesday.

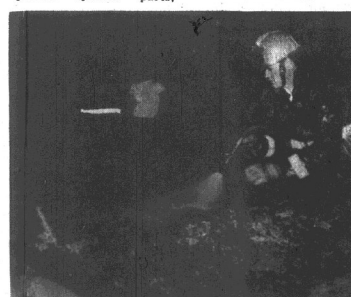

A woman clerk said the man entered, showed the pistol and said, "Open the register." Not hearing him clearly, she asked him to repeat and he responded, "I said open the register," she related.

The clerk said she complied and gave the man all of the bills.

He ran around the south side of the building and fled east toward Myrtle Avenue, according to reports.

A witness said he saw a red 1969 or 1971 Plymouth Barracuda or 'Cuda with black stripes on the side leave Leonard Avenue south of Nameki Road at a high rate of speed moments after the robbery. Another woman said she saw a car matching that description drive around the dry cleaning building several minutes before the holdup.

Yet another witness said she stairs. She then ran back upstairs and took her daughter down the front stairs.

Mrs. Bickel related, the children were playing on the second floor of the porch when she heard the explosion, which sounded like a loud crash.

"I thought the porch had fallen with the kids on it. I ran to the porch and they were there. I then thought one of them had jumped, but they were all there," she said.

"Mr. Bourbon had jumped the fence and was running toward the fire so I yelled to tell him Jason was all right. Mrs. Bourbon was just crying and screaming."

"I got the boys down the back stairs and the fire was starting to come up, so I told my girl to go back inside. I ran up and told her about the front door and put her on the car. I then ran back inside and grabbed her photo album. I gave the album to my husband and we ran out."

"We intended to go back inside and get more stuff, but when we got outside, our little girl was gone, which frightened us. We found her with Mrs. Bourbon who had taken her down the block for safety. By the time we returned to our house, a couple of minutes later, the fire was too big to go back inside. All we got out, besides ourselves, were the photo albums."

"We didn't even have our coats on. Our car was in front of our house and the keys burned up inside the house. We car has a column lock, so we could not even move it and the paint and vinyl roof were damaged during the fire."

"We went across the street and a woman had us come in because she was afraid there might be another explosion and didn't want us to get hurt by flying glass," Mrs. Bickel related.

Mrs. Bourbon said some in her family left the house without shoes on. "We want to get a house and try to replace what we lost. We just lost everything."

The Bourbon's oldest daughter, Sandy, 18, called the fire department which received the call at 5:35 p.m.

By the time the firemen arrived, both the Bourbon house, which was owned by John McDonald, and the house occupied by the Wetzel and Bickel families, were ablaze.

The fire quickly spread to the home of Helen Hughes, 2208 Benton, on the south, and a four-apartment building at 2222 Benton St., on the north. The Hughes home sustained about $2,000 damage to the building and the value of the contents destroyed has not been determined. The family remained in the home after the fire.

The four-apartment structure, owned by Gilbert Carrizales, sustained about $9,000 damage to the building and the value of the contents was estimated at $500. Officials have been unable to pinpoint the number of persons residing in the four-apartment building, but believe there were two apartments occupied at the time.

Wetzel, owner of 2214 Benton St., had no insurance and the building, valued at $20,000, was destroyed. Damage to the contents, owned by both the Wetzel and Bickel families, was estimated at $4,000.

McDonald had insurance for 2218 Benton St., which was occupied by the Bourbon family. The building, valued at $27,000, was destroyed. Mrs. Bourbon said the family did not have insurance for the contents destroyed, a loss estimated at about $4,000.

Winds also swept the fire to a garage behind the Bourbon house, causing extensive damage to the front of the garage and its contents, and about $500 damage was done to the rear garage of George Chase, 2215 Cleveland Blvd.

Five Granite City fire trucks and the aerial truck were used to extinguish the flames. Assistance from other nearby fire departments was not required. About 10 off-duty firemen were called back to duty during the fire.

Seven police cars also were required to direct traffic around the fire scene and to control the large crowd which came to watch the firefighting efforts.

One ticket was issued during the fire as the auto of Linda Onkle, 22, Edwardsville, was stopped at 22nd and Benton Streets. She was charged with driving over a fire hose and illegal transportation of liquor.

ARMED ROBBERY SUSPECT being sought by Granite City Police in connection with a holdup at Grand Cleaners, 2930 Nantoni Road, at 3:40 p.m. Tuesday. The man, who displayed a small pistol and took about $45, is described as in his late 40s, about five feet, eight inches tall, and weighing about 200 pounds. He has brown hair and brown eyes, a medium complexion, stocky build, paunchy stomach and a cleft in his chin and several age lines.

The fire was considered under control within two hours of the original alarm, but the buildings continued to smolder and fire units remained on the scene about six hours, until 11:30 p.m.

The fire rekindled in one house, causing firemen to return at 2:45 a.m. Tuesday to water down the ruins. They were on the scene one hour and 10 minutes.

At 5:20 a.m. Tuesday the fire was recalled to the block as the fire broke out again and began to spread. It required one hour and 30 minutes to extinguish the flames the last time.

Fire officials were on the scene most of the day Tuesday, preparing damage estimates and watching the ruins so the fire would not ignite again.

Two Granite City firemen had to be taken by ambulance from the fire scene to St. Elizabeth Hospital, but both were released after treatment.

Fireman Jim Strack, 30, suffered smoke and heat inhalation, and Fireman Robert Sanders, 46, suffered an irritation in his eyes from smoke. Both have returned to duty.

Families requiring assistance are being referred to the Tri-City Chapter of the American National Red Cross, 2021 Edison Ave., in Mill Creek, Meekins, executive director, noted.

Assistance for families whose homes were destroyed was made available Tuesday under the Red Cross disaster program.

Four families were known to be homeless after the fire and another person was known to have suffered losses, Mrs. Meekins said. Efforts were being made this week to contact the families.

The Bourbon family received aid from the Red Cross and Catholic Charities. Three children had no shoes and the family lost everything, including two unemployment checks which had been on the dresser.

Funds provided through the two agencies allowed the teenagers to buy shoes and a "shopping spree" in downtown Granite City Tuesday afternoon to purchase shoes and other needed items.

Families affected by the fire as well as those knowing of suitable housing were urged to contact the Red Cross.

Graham's uncle, the late Carl Graham, started the business at the Downtown location in 1922.

Police quickly surrounded the area and watched major streets of the city, but were unable to locate the robber. At least two cars were stopped and the occupants questioned briefly, but the drivers were released.

The robber escaped with about five $5 bills and about 20 single dollar bills.

He was described as in his late 40s, about five feet, eight inches tall, weighing about 200 pounds, having neatly combed brown hair covering his ears. He had brown eyes, a medium complexion, stocky build, paunchy stomach and a cleft in his chin and several age lines. He wore a blue and white checked jacket, blue pants and a light blue or gray shirt, officers were told.

hopes to lease it to another retail company as soon as Graham's moves.

A spokesman for Graham's said, "We have simply outgrown our current facility and need to have more room so that our business can prosper and grow. We expect to be able to better serve our customers in our new location."

The spokesman also said the move is expected to assist in reducing overhead costs and streamlining service. "Our 10 to 13 employees now are literally tripping over each other going up and down the stairs from the basement, where much of the stock is kept. The new store will allow more self-service by having more stock on display," he said.

Plans are to carpet the north half of the new store and to partition off a portion of the northeast corner for offices. As much space as possible will be devoted to the customer and display areas, it was explained.

Arrangements have been made with Illinois Bell Telephone Co. to retain the present Graham's telephone numbers so that we will continue to be as close to you as your phone," the spokesman said, adding, "We will also continue to make daily deliveries."

Western Union Telegraph Service and American Express Money Orders also will be continued at the new location.

The radios may have been taken by reaching in, without entry being gained, officials believe.

The police already have placed "Back Boards" at various locations and sent letters to businesses and clubs in the city.

Cancer is dreaded by all, but the American Cancer Society is doing much to combat it, and I hope that all the citizens of the Madison area will donate generously to this worthy cause," Mayor Mike Sasyk said.

In addition, the Second Ward alderman said, the cars stopping at the stop sign "contributed to air pollution."

The council approved a motion by Greenwald that an ordinance be prepared for the next meeting to eliminate the traffic stop.

sides and three teachers for the Parktowne West Mobile Home to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Seated as new board members are John Boushard and Charles Burger, who defeated incumbents Fred Rumpf and Willie C. Johnson and two other candidates in the April 12 school board election.

Many attended the meeting to witness the seating of the district's new board members. Toller, 48, of 1250 Klein St., a federal government employee, is a strong supporter of programs involving Special Education Region One and an advocate of efforts to reduce the Venice School District's budget and relieve its financial problems.

He is a graduate of Venice High School, is active in a coach with St. Mark's basketball teams and as committee chairman for Venice Boy Scout Troop One. He is married to the former Evelyn Hartman and the father of five sons and one daughter.

Bailey, 50, of 223 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres, is a 31-year federal government employee and has lived in the Venice area for the same period of time. He is married, has five children and is active in church affairs, serving as minister of the Church of Our Lord Jesus Christ.

Prior to the board meeting, the Venice board, which met April 12 election were canvassed.

Vote totals for the six candidates were: Boushard, 65; Burger, 30; Edgerly, 24; Salmend, 21; Miss Annie Mosby, 21; Fred Rumpf, 155 and Willie C. Johnson, 155.

A total of 573 ballots was cast and 17 spoiled at Venice Precinct One (Venice School), and 215 ballots and 24 spoiled at Venice Precinct Two (Eagle Park Improvement Association hall). The canvass resulted in no change in the unofficial vote tallies.

Rumpf attended the first part of the meeting and was followed by Toller for his service to the district.

Noting the former board member has not missed one meeting since first elected to the board 10 years earlier, Toller said, "It's a record that will be pretty hard to follow."

In other business, the board rehired Donald Phillips as district treasurer at a monthly salary of $150.

Also retained was Attorney Lawrence Hartman at the same monthly salary of $275, although a negative vote to rehire was cast by Burger.

Venice Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers was rehired without opposition for the 1975-76 school year.

Toller announced his committee appointments for the ensuing year and named—William J. Fichte, Boushard and Burger; Building—Elmer D. Taylor, Bailey and Fichte; Finance—Mrs. Jackie Leatherman, Boushard and Burger; and Purchasing—Bailey, Taylor and Mrs. Leatherman.

Bridge stripe promised soon

The I-270 bridge across the Mississippi River is at the top of a priority list—the list relates to 1,700 miles of highway—to be striped by the end of the year.

Told of motorists' visibility problems this morning, Harold Ruffner, traffic engineer, District Eight, Illinois Department of Transportation, said that, weather permitting, the lane stripe machine should be at work on the bridge the latter part of next week.

Construction, resurfacing and weather have delayed striping for several months, creating hazards when there is fog or rain.

LOOT MOBILE HOME
A stereo and speakers, worth a total of $400, were stolen from the mobile home of Alice Johnson in the Holiday Mobile Home Park. It was reported at 1:25 a.m. Wednesday. The front door lock was damaged to allow entry.

High-gusting winds and reports of tornado sightings in the Quad-Cities and near Troy accompanied a storm belt that moved through this area Wednesday night and early this morning.

Pontoon Beach Police Sgt. Jim D. Smith reported he sighted a tornado over Quiet Valley east of Route 111 at 10:05 p.m. Wednesday as he was driving east from the Archer Daniels Midland plant at Cargill Road. The tornado did not touch down.

The sighting of a tornado above the Troy area also was reported by witnesses who said that twister also moved on without a touchdown.

No major wind damage was reported in the Quad-Cities, but heavy rains Wednesday flooded streets and basements and overloaded all 17 of Granite City's lift stations, resulting in slow drainage of flooded streets, according to Lionel Pezall, superintendent of streets.

Portell said all streets were cleared by the rush hour this morning, with the exception of West Pontoon Road.

Rainfall readings showed a total fall of 57 of an inch of rain in the Quad-City area for the 24-hour period prior to 8 a.m. Wednesday, and an additional 2.08 inches for the 24-hour period to 8 a.m. today.

This week's rains brought to 3.19 inches the total fall so far this month. Normal April rainfall is 3.71 inches.

World War II resistance worker to speak

Mrs. Louise Leonard of Champaign, a former resistance worker with the underground in the Netherlands during World War II, will be the featured speaker at the Quad-City Church Women United's May Fellowship celebration from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road.

Mrs. Leonard has chosen as her topic, "You Can Have Your Cake and Eat It Too." Since the first May Fellowship Day in 1933, it has been traditional for church women across the country to get aside the first Friday in May to emphasize the creative and healing relations that are possible in every community.

On this day, Protestant, Orthodox and Roman Catholic Women in 2,000 local units of Church Women United will celebrate a litany of dedication to be "Open to Live Fully," the theme of the 1975 celebration. The theme is an invitation to experience "wholeness as persons, living life to the fullest, through personal growth and sharing in the lives of others," the organizers explained.

In addition to her work with the Dutch "underground" in the movement during World War II, Mrs. Leonard also accepted the responsibility of serving as foster mother to a Jewish child for a period of 2½ years. She has lived in China and Indonesia, as well as Europe, and came to the United States in 1947.

Mrs. Leonard, the mother of four children, serves as vice-president of Church Women United in Illinois and is a member of the National Church Women United's governing board.

The public is invited to attend the annual May Fellowship Day observance, which will be given in conjunction with an "old-fashioned" tea. Tickets may be obtained from any Church Women United representative, or by calling Mrs. James Rush, at 931-0420. The program is being coordinated by Mrs. Ronald Therrell. Mrs. Ralph Elliott is the May Fellowship Day chairman.

Flea market proposal studied

A proposal to establish a flea market in the building which Biederman Furniture Co. formerly was located at 3675 Nameoki Road was outlined to Granite City Council members Monday night in a request for determination of a fee or licensing system to cover market operations.

The plan was explained by Lawrence H. Greenberg of The Original Granite City Flea Market, Inc., who said that because of the many different types of businesses that would operate in the market, the city has no present licensing categories that would apply to the business as a whole.

While some aldermen contended that each specific type of business should pay license fees in accordance with existing ordinance controls, others maintained there are no city laws at all that would apply to some of the market operations.

After a 15-minute discussion of the problem, in which Greenberg addressed the council to say he needed a decision as soon as possible so that he can tell his clients the license fees they must pay, the aldermen referred the matter to City Attorney George Filloff to make a recommendation.

Greenberg said the flea market will contain 90 booths that will be rented by the day, week or month for weekend sales. Persons renting these booths will sell antiques, stamps and coins, handicrafts and "almost anything found for sale at garage sales and rummage sales."

Rental fees, he said, will be $6 for Friday, $12 for Saturday and $18 for Sunday, or $38 for the weekend.

A renter also may acquire use of a booth for the entire month for $150, he said. The flea market will open each weekend on Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., and on Sunday from noon to 7 p.m.

Greenberg noted that a similar flea market operates at Belleville, where there is no city fee charged both operators. Alderman Gerald Parmley said he believes the renters who sell used items should pay fees in accordance with the city's ordinance governing garage sales and rummage sales.

City Attorney George Filloff, noting that there would be a wide variety of businesses operating in such a market, told the aldermen "You are running into a tough situation on this."

Greenberg explained that it is planned to rent booths also to operators of regular businesses who would sell their wares at the flea market during weekends. Many of these renters would have their own state sales tax numbers, he said.

Filloff said he was of the opinion that persons selling wares at the flea market booths would have to "follow the existing city ordinances in paying license fees."

Alderman Walter Norn suggested that "This is something new. Why don't we just set a flat fee and try it for a year?"

The matter was referred to Filloff on a motion by Parmley.

Heart surgery patient may visit in area

A Greek woman who underwent open heart surgery after coming to this area five months ago as the result of help provided by a group of persons that included friends and relatives in the Quad-City is making a rapid recovery in Barnes Hospital, where the surgery was performed.

Miss Toula Kotronis, 34, who lived in a small village near Athens, Greece, may spend several weeks here after she is released from the hospital. She is reported planning to visit a sister, Mrs. James Michaelidis of 802 Washington Ave., Madison, and with Mr. and Mrs. Nick Pulizos 2333 Cleveland Blvd.

Mr. and Mrs. Pulizos are among those spearheading a drive for funds to pay Miss Kotronis' hospital bills, which will be about $8,000. Dr. Clarence Weiden, Barnes Hospital heart specialist, who was assisted in the operation by a surgery team from Texas, waived his fee which amounted to about $5,000.

A drive is being conducted by the Constantine & Helen Church, East St. Louis, St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church of St. Louis and the Church of the Ascension, St. Louis, to pay the hospital expenses.

Arrest juveniles in vacant house

Two boys and two girls, ages 14 and 15, were found inside a vacant house at 2500 Northridge by Granite City police at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. They were charged with criminal trespass to property.

Police were informed that the juveniles were attempting to break into the house. They noticed a rear door had been forced open, but it may have occurred during a previous break-in, it was noted.

Officers said there was minor damage inside the house.

Niedringhaus School is burglarized

An undetermined amount of change was stolen from a soft drink vending machine during a burglary at Niedringhaus School, 3001 State St., which was reported at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Entry was believed gained by climbing on a one-story roof and breaking a window on the north side of the building.

The kitchen and 15 classrooms were broken into. The soft drink machine in the furnace room was pried open and change taken. Two soft drinks also were consumed.

Girl, 8, hit by a knife

Miss Tonya Kivlehen, 8, Washington Park, was hurt when she was struck with a knife thrown at her by a young man in an apartment in the 1700 block of Cleveland Boulevard at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

The girl and her mother said a youth was visiting with them and began to throw a pocket knife around. He threw it at the girl, the blade striking near her left eyebrow and cutting her.

The youth ran from the apartment and fled north in the alley.

The girl was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where several sutures were required to close the cut. She was released.

HITS POWER LINE

A Terminal Railroad Association crane struck a power line on the railroad highline south of Venice about 7:35 a.m. Tuesday, halting electric service to the Granite City Army Installation and to American Steel Foundries. Power was restored about 8 a.m.

LOOT TRAILER — AGAIN

The master bed and two rugs, worth a total of $175, were stolen from the mobile home of Douglas Parker, 1324 Slough Road, Mitchell, it was reported at 5:35 p.m. Monday. The family had been staying in St. Louis since some windows were shot out while they were home recently. There have been several burglaries there since in which nearly all of the furniture and household furnishings have been taken.

Past records fell and competition was fierce between both Granite City high schools and other county schools during the annual Madison County track and field meet, held at GCHS South Tuesday.

Alton, for the second straight year, captured top honors in Red Division competition for large schools. The Redbirds tallied 84 points, Edwardsville 72, GCHS North 60, GCHS South 54 and Collinsville 18.

In Green Division competition (schools of 750 enrollment or less), defending champion Wood River mustered 56 points to take third. Roxana captured first place with 61½ points and Highland was second with 57. Bethalto had 52 points, Madison 41 and Triad 17½. Marquette of Alton and St. Paul of Highland did not garner any points.

Three new meet records were set in the Red Division—two by Alton and one by Warrior Tun Schooley.

Redbird Don Flory captured the pole vault at 13 feet, 9 inches, shattering the previous mark of 13-5½ set in 1972 by Granite City's Robert Kratz. Alton's Mike Sawyer won the two-mile run in 9:38.7, breaking the previous standard of 9:43.8 set by Martin of Collinsville in 1972.

Schooley, in edging Alton's Irving Tolbert, won the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.5 seconds, erasing a 1970 time of 14.65 seconds set by Granite City's Mike Allen.

A new mark of 21 feet, 3½ inches was set in the Green Division long jump event by Bethalto's Jeff Hauser. The old record of 20-11½ was set by Brennan of Roxana in 1971.

Highland's Greg Frey ran the 880 in 2:02.5, topping the former Green Division time of 2:04 set by Alton's Tom Boyd 3rd, shot put — Hartman 4th; two-

Alton, headed by three-event winner Larry Perry, led the field halfway through the meet with 49 points, having won six of the first nine events.

Edwardsville had 27 points at the halfway mark, North and South were tied with 28 apiece and Collinsville had 12.

South took a temporary 30-28 edge over the Steelers on Joe Ward's fourth-place finish in the 100-yard dash before North narrowed the margin when Larry Schleicher placed fourth in the 880-yard run.

Steelers athletes then earned points with a first, three seconds, three thirds, a fourth and a fifth place in remaining events.

Solving the fly nuisance

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County
Extension Adviser

Many homeowners are finding cluster flies and face flies waking up after a long winter's nap.

These flies have slept comfortably in the walls and attic areas of homes since last fall. On warm, sunny days they become active and forget how to find their way outside, so many of them end up inside the house. Even though they do not injure persons or materials, they make a general nuisance of themselves. They fly about buzzing into windows.

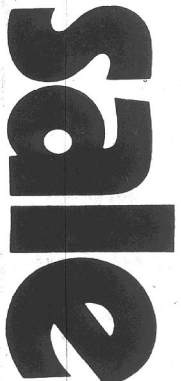

Both flies live and breed outdoors. The maggot or larvae stage of the cluster fly lives in the body of earthworms in the soil.

There is little that can be done at this time of year to help the problem. The fly swatter is a useful tool when only a few flies are present. For a more serious problem hanging a dichlorvos (DDVP, Vapona) plastic resin strip in an attic, basement, or other areas where flies are present is recommended.

Use one strip per 1,000 cubic feet of space. Do not use in kitchens or areas where food is present. Also avoid using in nurseries or rooms where infants, ill, or aged persons are

Seebold dump truck stolen

A dump truck was stolen from the yard of Paul Seebold Concrete Co., 22nd Street and the railroad tracks, and was crashed into the fence at the Granite City Humane Shelter on Route 2, it was reported at 2 a.m. Monday.

Ruts in the ground indicated the truck had been driven into the driveway of the humane shelter and driven in a circle in the field, ending at the south side of the chain link fence where the truck was rammed into the fence.

There was damage to the fence and the truck became entangled. Officers said the ignition key was in the truck when it was recovered.

Restoration volunteers work on beautification projects

The Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society initiated two beautification projects this month with over 60 people participating in a clean-up campaign in the downtown area.

A work-day program at the pocket park in the 2200 block of Cleveland Boulevard attracted 20 adults and several neighborhood children. They worked under the direction of Mrs. Gail Hug, Beautification Committee chairman, to level dirt at the site and plant 95 multiflora rose bushes and grass seed.

The men assisting in the project installed railroad ties at the sidewalk edge as an added decorative and useful ornament.

Walter Padgett, president of the sponsoring organization, said many trees and bushes have been donated by local citizens. He added the "park project" is designed into small mini-park areas.

The DNRS, Inc., has formulated an arrangement with property owners whereby they may lease a lot for a three-year period and complete the improvements as an asset to the neighborhood, the president announced.

Anyone interested in the project may write the DNRS Beautification committee, P.O. Box 117, Granite City, Ill., 62040, for more information. The second project was an all-day clean up campaign with 40 adults and children. They toured the neighborhood picking up trash, broken glass, leaves, tree limbs and other litter from the sidewalks, yards and alleys, covering a 27 square-block area.

All trash was collected and put into bags which filled two large dump trucks at the conclusion of the day.

The participants met on the parking lot of the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue, and divided into teams for the spring clean-up. After the work details completed the job, they met on the grounds of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, 22nd Street and Grand Avenue, for a winner's roast.

Other than the residents those who assisted were members of Cub Scout dens led by Mrs. Joy Causey and Mrs. Ray Buehler. Padgett reported the G. H. Sternberg Construction Co., donated the trucks, Anheuser-Busch provided trash bags and the Granite City Street Department parked trucks at a central location for disposal.

CAR IS STOLEN
A white over green 1973 Chevrolet four-door auto was stolen from in front of the home of James Brinker, 2128 Washington Ave., it was reported Monday.

License plate sales rise

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, has announced that 4,700,070 license plates have been sold for passenger cars and other first division vehicles. Secretary Howlett said the total is an increase of 49,884 over the 4,650,216 plates sold at the same time last year.

Banks and currency exchanges again sold the greatest number, 2,180,028, just 2,531 short of their 1974 figure. Howlett said his Springfield office handled 1,615,333 transactions, including mail-ins, reassignments, special requests and over-the-counter sales.

The three Chicago facilities sold 904,709 plates over-the-counter.

Accredit radio-TV teaching

The radio-television sequence of the department of mass communications at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been accredited by the American Council on Education for Journalism.

ACEJ President Don Carter said the accreditation is one of 32 sequences in 13 schools and departments of Journalism announced following the annual meeting in New Orleans, bringing to 65 the total number of schools of Journalism or communications programs accredited by the Council.

John Regnell, chairman of the department of mass communications of the SIUE School of Fine Arts and Communications, said accreditation for a five-year period was granted after the Council made a detailed review and evaluation of the department's first application for ACEJ recognition.

The application process was begun last year with preparation of complete data covering operation of the radio-television sequence, including curriculum, faculty, physical facilities, organization, student services and performance of graduates.

In January, an ACEJ visitation team spent two days on the campus, making a personal survey of the department's performance, facilities, faculty-student relationships and administrative procedures. The SIUE application next was submitted to a vote of the entire Council membership for approval.

ACEJ membership includes The American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism, the American Newspaper Publishers Association, the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the National Association of Broadcasters, the Public Relations Society of America, the Radio-Television News Directors Association and others.

Andrew J. Kochman, SIUE vice-president for academic affairs and provost, said the department of mass communications, with 230 enrolled, has the third largest group of majors in the local university following the Schools of Education and Business.

In a letter to Prof. Regnell and Hollis White, dean of the School of Fine Arts and Communications, Dr. Kochman said: "Congratulations to you, your faculty, staff and student body on having the radio and television sequence in the department of mass communications accredited by the American Council on Education for Journalism. This is a recognition which is justly deserved."

Teresa LaBarbera weds Lt. William McCunney

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Teresa R. LaBarbera and Air Force Lieutenant William M. McCunney who were united in marriage in a one o'clock afternoon ceremony on April 20 at the Santa Clara (Calif.) Mission.

The Rev. Daniel Gormann performed the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with bouquets of yellow and white gladioli.

A program of organ music preceded the service. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. LaBarbera, 1622 Sheffield Ave., San Jose, Calif. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. William J. McCunney, reside at 1825 Edwardsville Road, Madison.

For her wedding, the bride selected a full length gown of soft organza, accented at the scoop neckline with Venice lace. Sheer bishop-style sleeves were set into the bodice and a wide accordion pleated flounce encircled the slightly full skirt and chapel train.

The honor attendant, Mary Judd, wore a sleeveless A-line gown in lime green, complemented with a matching long sleeved jacket.

Sandy Mansfield, bridesmaid, was groomed in an identically styled dress in yellow.

The groom chose his brother, Steve McCunney, as best man. Gary Forrester served as groomsmen and Phil LaBarbera, a brother of the bride, seated the guests.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held in the Faculty Club at the University of Santa Clara.

A graduate of Presentation High School and the University of Santa Clara, the bride is employed as a statistical methods analyst by the California Highway Patrol.

The groom was graduated from Granite City High School and Southern Illinois University, where he was a member of Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity. He is stationed at Mather AFB, Calif.

After a wedding trip across the country, the newlyweds will reside at Ellsworth AFB, S.D., where the groom has been reassigned.

GC cancer drive to open

Volunteer workers will be collecting this weekend in Granite City to raise funds for the American Cancer Society. It was announced today by Joseph Lucido and Ronald Luebben, co-chairmen for the Granite City drive.

"April is 'Cancer Control Month' by Presidential proclamation and a Congressional resolution.

It is reported by the Cancer Society, that cancer will strike 665,000 people in this country during 1975, but that many forms of cancer are curable if detected early and treated properly.

In addition to vital research the society, according to Luebben, alerts the public to the cancer's warning signals and conducts programs of public and professional education.

"I would like to urge all residents to support the educational and fund-raising efforts of the American Cancer Society as part of the national program in April," Mayor Paul Schuler said.

Discussions at health clinic open Tuesday

The first in a series of eight meetings in which women will discuss "topics of interest to women today" will be held at 1:15 p.m. Tuesday at the Mental Health Clinic, 2024 State St.

The program is open to the public. Meetings will be held each Tuesday afternoon through June 17. The fee will be $10 for all eight sessions.

The group offers women an opportunity to share concerns and thoughts about things they are experiencing. The discussions will center on specific topics with educational input from the clinic staff.

Among topics to be considered during the meetings are a woman's role as it affects her self concept, how she feels about herself, depression, its causes, symptoms and what helps; family relationships; and woman's identity as female.

Grant to aid disadvantaged

The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has awarded Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville a continuing grant of $85,000 for the Supplemental Instructional Program (SIP). The funding is for the fiscal year ending June 30.

"The overall objective of the program is to provide an academic vehicle which will insure the acquisition of a competency-based education for highly motivated, low-income students who have shown some academic potential," according to Emil Jason, assistant vice-president for special programs and minority affairs at the University.

"We expect to be able to aid between 300 to 500 such disadvantaged students," Jason said.

SIP offers tutorial services to disadvantaged and minority students, a counseling package which includes personal and financial aids counseling as well as academic advisement, and job placement services for students needing special help in finding employment with on-the-job training.

The program also provides support for student recruitment and a summer orientation program.

This will be the third year that SIUE has received the grant, Jason said.

Damage 5 cars

Five autos parked at Lake School were damaged by vandals, the owners noticed at 9:30 p.m. Monday.

Greg Robertson, 49 Shirwin Drive, Arlington Heights, reported a tire was slashed and his antenna broken. The antenna on the car of Haig Nighossian, 2100 Pontoon Road, also was broken, as was a rear view mirror.

Albert Strain, 384 Lake St., Pontoon Beach, reported his antenna was bent and point on his car was chipped. The antenna was bent on the car of Frank Verdue, 27 Arlington Drive, and James Jeffries, Jr., Collinsville, reported the gas cap was stolen from his car.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES H. HEATH JR. They were united in marriage at the Pentecostal Church in Tamm, Ill. The bride is the former Miss Susan Arlene Trout, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Trout of Olive Branch, Ill.

Susan A. Trout becomes Mrs. James H. Heath Jr.

The Tamm (Ill.) Pentecostal Church was the scene of the wedding on April 5 of Miss Susan Arlene Trout, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T.

Trout of Olive Branch, Ill., and James H. Heath Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Heath, 304 Wilson Park Lane.

Pink candles in tiered candelabras and arrangements of pink gladiolus and white mums decorated the sanctuary for the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Joe Lentz and the Rev. Clifton Gallier of Granite City.

Wedding selections were played by Miss Joanne Lentz, organist, and a guitarist group, Alvis and The Barnetts, from Nashville, Tenn.

For her wedding, the former Miss Trout designed and created her gown of white knit in an A-line style.

The Empire bodice was fashioned of lace. The long full sleeves and chapel length train were accented with lace. She wore a melody length veil of bridal illusion and held a bouquet of pink roses encircled with a garland of white carnations and baby's breath.

Maid of honor Miss Joyce Lentz chose a long gown of pink knit made in Empire style and enhanced with white lace. She wore a pink wide brimmed hat. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Marzella Lippe, a sister of the bride, and Miss Jane Tomes, were identical gowns complemented with white picture hats. Each attendant held pink mums festooned with love knot streamers.

Jennie Rea, flower girl, was dressed in a pink frock and carried a basket of rose petals. Joe Osburn served as the ringbearer.

Gary Ellis attended the groom as best man. Wayne Trout, the bride's brother, and Dennis Rich were groomsmen. Mike Lippe, a brother-in-law of the bride, and Larry Heath, the groom's brother, escorted the guests to their seats.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Egyptian School cafeteria.

A graduate of the Egyptian High School in Tamm, the bride has been employed at the Southeast Missouri Hospital, Cape Girardeau, Mo.

The groom was graduated in 1972 from Granite City High School and works at Granite City Steel.

They will reside in Granite City.

Private Barbara J. Verdu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Verdu, 27 Arlington Dr., has completed a transportation movements specialist course at the Army Transportation School at Fort Eustis, Va.

Students learned to coordinate and control the movements of military supplies and personnel.

Peter Maer wins award

Peter Maer, Atlanta, Ga., a former Granite City resident, has been presented the Associated Press award for the "Outstanding Interview of 1974" for an interview he conducted with the Rev. Martin Luther King Sr. shortly after the slaying of Rev. King's wife. Maer commented after the interview, "Rev. King's acceptance of this senseless murder as God's will and his compassion for the apparently deranged killer made this a most memorable story." Maer, who is the morning news anchorman for WSB Radio in Atlanta, also has interviewed Henry Kissinger, George Wallace, Lawrence Welk and other famous people. He received the award during an Associated Press dinner this month at the Marriott Hotel in Atlanta. He also has received the Freedom Foundation Award for a Memorial Day Program he wrote and narrated, which featured interviews with veterans of every war from the Spanish American War to Vietnam. A graduate of Granite City High School, Maer was in the first graduating class of the school of mass communication at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He is the son of local Optometrist Dr. Stanley Maer and Mrs. Dorothy Maer, former Granite City residents. Peter Maer is married to the former Elizabeth Overy Doynne of Nashville, Tenn., an artist whose work is gaining popularity in Atlanta.

Poaching A Chicken

Most "leftover" chicken dishes taste better if they are made from poached chicken. If you have leftover roasted, broiled or fried chicken choose a leftover dish with a sauce or broth base.

Poaching chicken is easy. Simmer in water in a covered pot with a stalk of celery, an onion and a little salt until tender. Strain the broth and reserve it. Cut the chicken meat from the bones in generous slices. Any unused portion of the poached chicken may be stored in an air-tight container in the refrigerator or freezer for later use.

Evaluation held at GC North

Twenty-eight educators conducted an on-site evaluation of North High School Monday through Wednesday, Principal Gilbe T. Wainmeyer reports. The North Central Association evaluation team is chaired by Neal Schmelzel, principal of Edwardsville High School; he has led several NCAA evaluations in recent years.

Wainmeyer said, "The purpose of this external team evaluation is to help the school look at itself objectively."

"For the last 18 months, the new school has been engaged in a comprehensive self-study, seeking to identify its strengths and determine those areas in which change would be desirable. The NCA team brings an outside, professional viewpoint to the evaluation."

Schmelzel commented, "We are not visiting the school to inspect it. Rather we have come to give assistance to the staff in its pursuit of quality education for its students."

Wainmeyer pointed out that "the members of the NCA team are contributing their services to the school."

"This spirit of professional cooperation is a hallmark of education in this country and is a noted feature of the North Central Association. The goal of an NCA evaluation is to stimulate a continuing drive for improvement."

Areas evaluated and members of the evaluation team were:

TV programming for deaf cited

Another step forward in informative, educational and entertaining programs on television for the deaf and future plans for a better and more far-reaching project for their benefit were discussed at the Deaf Awareness Banquet held at the Redway Inn, St. Louis.

Mrs. Mary Lou Hudson of Granite City served as chairman of the event, sponsored by the Metropolitan Round Table Representatives, an organization consisting of representatives from 20 area deaf chapters.

A record 530 members and guests attended the dinner dance, arranged as a fund-raising program with proceeds to be used for more deaf television programs.

Dr. Douglas Watson, director of service programs, Deafness Research and Training Center at New York University, was guest speaker.

He reported that there are 12.5 million hearing-impaired persons in the United States, according to a recent survey. They comprise the largest chronic physical disability group in the country.

However, the level of program funding and provision of services are far below that provided for other disability groups. Research shows that simultaneously using sign language and lip reading is the most effective means of education for the deaf, Dr. Watson added. This is called total communication.

The speaker noted that recent legislation in the area of vocational rehabilitation has been introduced. Senate bill 1218 is now in the Senate and would reduce the rates for deaf persons using the telephone teletype.

There is a growth in television for the hearing-impaired on a nationwide basis, he said. This metropolitan area has been successful in gaining many television programs through the efforts of Leon and Mary Lou Hudson of Granite City who lead the area deaf organizations in trying to obtain more TV programming in the area, Dr. Watson added.

Mrs. Hudson and Bill Blank, St. Louis, presented awards to KETC-TV, Channel 9, for outstanding service to the deaf with captioned news each night at 11 p.m., a captioned Japanese film each Friday night at 9:30 p.m., and a health program entitled, "Feeling Good" at 7 p.m. each Wednesday, and a science program "Nova" each Sunday at 6:30 p.m.

Other awards were given to Channel 5, KSD-TV for two minute segments of local news at 12:54 and 3:40 p.m. daily; to Channel 4, KMOX-TV for news on St. Louis illustrated each Saturday with interpreter Christy Pratt; Channel 11, KPLR-TV for the award winning 4-hour special, "They Grow In Silence," and to Channel 2, KTVI-TV for permission to Channel 9 to use the ABC news and for an informative show on deaf occupations last fall.

Bank, president of the Metro Round Table Representatives, awarded a silver bow to Mrs. Hudson for her assistance in securing TV programming for the deaf and arranging for the banquet.

The Rev. Darrell Ellsworth, St. Louis, vice-president of the Registry of Interpreters of the Deaf, presented pins signifying "Partnership" to Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. Christy Pratt of St. Louis for their work with the deaf.

A program was performed by members of the Deaf Drama Guild under the direction of Ray and Kathy Atwood, St. Louis, who are both deaf.

The first skit was entitled "Meet Me in St. Louis," and was a barber shop playlet followed by a drama on the frustrations of the deaf watching a television program with no captions.

The remainder of the evening was spent dancing to the music of Art Lavelle's Starlighters Band. Mrs. Hudson said, "People who are deaf enjoy dancing as much as those with full hearing," the deaf become versatile in many unexpected ways. They follow the music through the vibrations and most are very adept at the intricate steps.

Recognition was accorded to special guests, Illinois Senator and Mrs. Sam Vahlbueh, Missouri Representative and Mrs. Carley Thompson, Rindy Belshe, assistant to Senator Eagleton; Mr. and Mrs. Ocho, director of adult education, University City; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Metzler, director of Contact, St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hudson, and James Hudson of Hudson Jewelers, Granite City, who have underwritten the cost of some of the deaf TV programs and interpreters, the Rev. Ellsworth and Jan Arnold.

Also honored were representatives of St. Louis television networks and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glazier, executive director of Channel 9; Mr. and Mrs. Art Klinsky, associate editor of Channel 2; Mr. and Mrs. Don Burns, producer of Channel 5; Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Raymond, Channel 4, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Koplar, program director of Channel 11.

TELEVISION PROGRAMS FOR DEAF are explained by Dr. Douglas Watson, right, director of service programs, Deafness Research and Training Center at New York University, at a fund raising dinner in St. Louis sponsored by 20 area deaf chapters. At left, Mr. and Mrs. Leon (Mary Lou) Hudson of Granite City. Mrs. Hudson was chairman of the planning committee.

sources, was shown. Narrating the sequences were LaVelle Stephens and Ruth Buer.

Mrs. Katy Monroe of St. Louis, a federal government employee and a guest of Miss Smith, was introduced. The former has applied for a National BPW scholarship under the foundation program, it was reported.

Mrs. Barbara Wyatt and Mrs. Mary Batson were presented "Inter-Club Awards" to advance their careers in business. Mrs. Wyatt is planning to apply her grant toward a

POP & MOM VIVIANO
— BULLEEN —
SENIOR CITIZEN
10% DISCOUNT

Dear Sirs:

Due to the appalling news that Senior Citizens are deprived of decent food because of high prices and low income and because "Mama and Papa" Viviano (77 years young) says so, WE WISH TO ANNOUNCE that Viviano's Large Tom-Boy Store on Pontoon Road will have, beginning Wednesday, April 30th, and every Wednesday — "Senior Citizens Day."

Our ad and coupons can be attained in our store. Any Senior Citizen with proof of age, sixty-five years young and over, will be given a 10% cash discount on their total purchase.

For instance, if the total purchase is $20.00 you will receive a cash discount of $2.00. You will only have to pay $18.00.

Leastwise our conscience will be clear when we hear any more appalling food news about our Senior Citizens — We Are Doing Something About It!!!

We hope some civic organizations will help them if transportation be their problem.

Please limit your purchase to your own personal needs... for the abuse of this program will terminate it.

Experienced pitching bolsters Mercer for defense of its title

Defending Illinois Inter-City League baseball champion Mercer Mortuary will begin its search for a third consecutive league title when Mercer kicks off its 30-game 1975 schedule, which includes 10 doubleheaders, against Highland-Pleasant at 2 p.m. Sunday at Wilson Park.

Round robin tourney for South, North

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler will throw out the game ball at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow at Wilson Park to start a two-day round-robin baseball tournament between both Granite City High Schools, Peoria Limestone and Johnston City.

The schedule calls for Peoria and GCHS South to meet at 4:30 p.m. on Friday on Diamond One, and Johnston City to play GCHS North on Diamond Two at the same time.

At 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Peoria and Johnston City will clash on Diamond One. And at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, it will be North versus South on Diamond One to conclude the tournament.

North's Steelers now with a 6-7 record, will start three-game winner Bill Dickerson. He has an earned run average of 1.09. The Steelers are led in hitting by Richard Schmidt, 429 and 11 runs batted in.

The South Warriors, now 4-8, may start hurler Greg Terrell, 1-3. Available for relief is Kirk Champion who has struck out 27 this spring. Heading South's batting are Brian Sikes, 448, and Ray Smith, who has collected 25 hits.

Wendell Corey of Granite City, beginning his fifth year as manager of the Mercer nine, told the Press-Record, "The league is starting its 45th year of play. In that time span, Mercer has captured the title three times—1961, 1973 and 1974. "The new season looks promising," notes Corey, "since we have nine players from last year's championship team back on the roster."

Returning are Mark Boone, pitcher who helped Mercer to a 15-11 season record. Dave Huddleston, second baseman, Louise Janssen of Bethalto, winner of last week's late model feature event, will start in the last row of the first heat event. Dean Aernie of St. Louis, victorious last week in the sportsman main event, will receive the same starting position, the last row.

The late model cars and drivers will compete on the half-mile dirt oval, while the sportsman class will line up on the quarter-mile track.

Dupo defeats Devils' nine

The Red Devil baseball nine dropped a 13-2 decision at Dupo on Tuesday.

Dupo made ten hits and one error while Venice collected three hits and committed three errors. Red Devil's Algie Crawford went the distance on the mound.

The hosts garnered three runs in the first, three in the third, one in the fifth and six in the sixth.

Mike Henry tripled and scored in the fifth. In the sixth, Reggie Gardner walked, stole two bases and scored on a hit by Mike Logan.

Bill Campbell, catcher, Vic Rezanach, pitcher, Bob Scott, outfielder and catcher, Bob Finkle, pitcher and third baseman, Larry Corey, first baseman and outfielder, Steve Schardan, third baseman, and Rich Schardan, shortstop. Four new players have been added to the roster.

They are Mike Stanton, a 1974 graduate of GCHS South, as pitcher and first baseman; Hank Scott, outfielder; Cary Simpson, a 1974 graduate of GCHS North as a pitcher; and Harvey Breckner, now with GCHS North, as an outfielder.

20 teams at South track on Saturday

A second major track and field meet will be hosted this week by Granite City High School South, beginning at noon Saturday. High schoolers from Missouri and Illinois will gather here for the third annual South Invitational.

Scheduled to compete are Lindbergh of Missouri, a 1974 division champion here, plus GCHS North and South, Mount Vernon, Belleville West and East, Edwardsville, Collinsville, Hazelwood East, Centralia, Cahokia, Lebanon, the 1974 small school division champion here, and Triad, Madison, Herculeanum of Missouri, Roxana, Vianney of Missouri, Wood River, Mascoutah and Jerseyville.

The meet is to be divided into varsity and sophomore events, with points earned in both levels combined for each school's total points.

Events rained out

Eleven Quad-City high school sports events were postponed yesterday due to rain-soaked grounds and have not yet been rescheduled. Postponed were six baseball contests, three track meets and two tennis meets.

Bats boom as Steelers win

A 13-hit attack by GCHS North beat Trenton West 12-2 here Tuesday. Bill Dickerson relieved starter Mark Stanton in the sixth.

The Steelers committed two errors to the visitors' three. Trenton garnered five hits. Dave Harrison, Richard Schmidt, Jeff Reiter and Mark David delivered hits for two first-inning runs. In the next frame, Darrel Page singled and later scored on a wild throw.

Richard and Ed Schmidt walked in the third, executed a double steal and scored as Bill Carr singled.

In a big fifth inning, Reiter homered after Richard Schmidt walked. Carr singled, Dickerson walked and Harvey Breckner batted in two runs with a hit. After Harrison was hit by a pitch, Richard Schmidt returned to the plant and hit a two-run single.

For a final Steeler run in the sixth, Davis singled and Ed Schmidt, Page and John Scott walked.

Big inning in MHS win

MHS scored six runs in the third inning in beating visiting Johnston City 9-2 Tuesday. Credited with the Trojans' second 1974 win was Kevin Werner, who fanned two, walked six and issued five hits going the route.

Each team erred twice. Madison totaled 11 hits. Singing by Kevin Werner, Joe Gulash, Darrell Franklin and Harold Williams, a homer by Cedric Wilson and four walks highlighted the third.

Gulash singled and Wilson doubled for a run in the fourth. Wilson doubled again in the sixth, driving in Gulash and Timmons, each of whom had singled.

Now 4-8 (2-5 in league play), GCHS South lost 11-3 here Monday to Alton, which utilized seven hits and eight Warrior errors. The Redbirds scored three in the third, six in the fourth and one each in the fifth and sixth.

Kirk Champion was relieved in the fourth by Larry York. Randy Loyer took over in the fifth.

South was held to four hits. Brian Sikes doubled and Keith Champion and Mike Gagich singled in the second inning. In the fifth, Mark Greenwood walked and later scored on a fly by Jim Kafka.

Trespassers on lake property to be arrested

Anyone found on property owned by the state around Horseshoe Lake will be arrested and prosecuted for trespassing, according to Walter E. Knox Sr., an agent of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Knox said that the property acquired by the state for the Horseshoe Lake Park has been posted and will continue to be closed to the public until further notice.

He said it was necessary to prohibit public access to the state-acquired land "because of burning, vandalism, cars being stripped, pot parties, illegal hunting and fishing and other things, mainly garbage being dumped all over the place."

Knox said that "there will be no more warnings. Anyone caught on state property on or around the lake will be arrested."

Easement drive opens Sunday

A turnout of several hundred persons is being requested at a public meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday at Granite City High School North at which the task of obtaining easements for the proposed Four-Township Sanitary Sewer will begin.

At the meeting, maps and plans will be available showing each piece of property where an easement for the sewer is required and showing where the sewer will be placed in relation to each home. Walter C. "Dick" Sparks, chairman of the county's sewer committee, explained.

"We have 14 defined areas in the Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice township territory the sewer will serve. We are going to set up tables in 14 different areas of the room and let the residents of each area study the maps and plans pertaining to their areas."

"The easement forms for most pieces of property also will be on the tables, all ready to sign," he said both husbands and wives must sign the easement forms.

"We hope everyone will sign his easement so we can get this project going as quickly as possible," he said, adding that if several hundred persons at the meeting will sign their easements, "it will be a really great way to kick off this easement drive."

He said several things are necessary if the sewer project is to be under construction by early 1976. First, all easements must be signed, then the project sections must be advertised for bidding, bonds must be prepared and sold and contracts must be signed with companies that are to do the work.

Edward Juneau of the Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab engineering and consulting firm has broken the sewer construction project into several phases so that smaller local contractors will have an equal chance to bid on the work, it was explained. Juneau has been the main planner on the project.

Sparks stressed that quick obtaining of easements will be necessary if the project is to be funded this year.

"We met with the head of the Environmental Protection Agency and his staff in Springfield last Friday and were given assurances that we were to be funded this year. Hopefully we will have the good news of official confirmation to give everyone Sunday at the meeting," he said.

"One of the main things to remember, however, is if we do not get the easements quickly, we may not complete everything that has to be completed in time, and we have no assurance we would be funded by the state again next year. We have to work fast and everyone has to cooperate on this thing or we may not get our sewer."

Sparks said a target date of July 1 has been set for the signing of all easements to allow time for the other work to be completed.

A discussion will be held during Sunday's meeting on the general progress of the sewer program and questions concerning the program as well as specific alignments of the sewers will be answered.

"The one question we can not answer is how much it is going to cost to use the sewer. That will be determined by the overall cost, which we are keeping as low as possible," Sparks explained.

"It is essential that we obtain free easements for the sewer, or we will just be running the bill each homeowner is going to pay to use the sewer way up where no one will use it."

"If we have to pay for easements, the program just will not work. If there are a few landowners who refuse to give free easements, we will just have to take them to court and condemn their properties to get the easements."

"I can't imagine there will be very many who have so little pride for their area that they would stop the program by refusing to grant easements. Sewers are our biggest need here and we are going to have some serious health problems if we do not get the sewers."

"If we have a lot of holdouts who want to be paid for their easements, we will just have to give up the program," Sparks said.

He said those at the meeting will be asked first to sign the easements for their properties and then will be requested to volunteer to help obtain easements from their neighbors.

"I think we are going to have a lot of luck with the concept of neighbors talking their friends and neighbors into granting easements," he said.

Sparks said anyone wishing to help in Sunday's meeting should come to the high school about one hour before the actual program for a briefing on how they can assist in the meeting. He said he is hoping for a least one person from each subdivision to come early.

Plans for the meeting were formulated by the Sewer Committee this week. A second meeting is to be held before Sunday.

A public statement issued by the committee at the last meeting noted, "Your sewer committee has worked very hard on this project for the last four years along with the engineers and the attorneys, the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, the federal and state governments and all other bodies who have an interest in this project."

The statement continued, "Now it has come to the time when we, as individuals, have to show our concern by really putting aside some of the other things we normally do and make sure we get to the proper place to sign up and help to get our neighbors signed."

Sparks is chairman of the sewer committee. Other members are Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagner and Louis Whitsell, Homer Boothman, Arthur Moore and Christ Paschoff. Whitsell, supervisor of Nameoki Township, distributed a leaflet door to door in that township which said, "Are you interested in sewers? We have them in our grasp, but your help is needed to give us the easement through your property."

"We urge everyone interested to be present at a meeting Sunday, April 27, at 2 p.m. at the Granite City High School North. All maps and material will be on hand to show the public. Please be there." It was signed by Whitsell.

Sparks concluded his appeal, "We hope to see a very large turnout Sunday afternoon and to get a large number of the easements signed."

"We are interested in increasing our basic commissioners' staff and are extending an open invitation to adults in the area interested in helping us with the program to contact either myself at 452-1159 or Bickel, at 452-3150," Dr. Layloff said.

The cruising speed of a Rabbit.
93 mph.
The EPA's highway test average.
38 mpg.
$2,999.*

93 miles per hour? We obviously don't recommend it, but it's reassuring to know that as you get onto a hectic expressway, a new Volkswagen Rabbit Hatchback has the power for incredible acceleration. From 0 to 50 in only 8.2 seconds. Quicker than a Monza 2.2.
38 miles per gallon! That's what the Rabbit averaged on the highway in the 1975 model
Federal Environmental Protection Agency fuel economy tests. The Rabbit in the city averaged a nifty 24. Not bad for a subcompact with all the head and leg room of some mid-size cars.
$2,999? That's what you pay for the car backed by the most complete and advanced car coverage plan in the business: The Volkswagen
Owner's Security Blanket with Computer Analysis.
Happy days are here again? We think you'll think so after you've driven a Rabbit.

Benefit dance for former GC resident

A benefit dance for James Hackethal, a kidney transplant recipient and former Granite City resident, will be held from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday, May 4, at the Edwardsville Moose Lodge on Goshen Road.

Hackethal, 40, attended Sacred Heart School and graduated from Granite City High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hackethal of this area.

He received a new kidney Jan. 28 in the University of Minnesota Hospital, Minneapolis, Minn., from his brother, Lawrence "Toots" Hackethal of Edwardsville.

Except for a brief visit at home, James Hackethal has remained in the hospital since the operation. A "James Hackethal kidney transplant fund" was started by friends to help the family defray the large expenses of the operation and subsequent hospitalization.

Tickets for the May 4 dance cost $2 and all receipts will go to the benefit fund, according to Roger Hartung, treasurer of the fund. The Trombones band is to entertain at the dance.

Ticket requests and donations should be sent to Hartung at the Bank of Edwardsville, where the fund is maintained.

Proclaims 'Respect for Law' Week

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler today proclaimed May 1 to 7 as "Respect for Law Week" and urged citizens to join in "carrying the message of respect for law to other citizens."

The proclamation credited Optimist Club members with sponsoring and supporting programs aimed at combating crime and disrespect for the law.

The proclamation said: "Whereas, crime and its effect upon the lives and property of our citizens continues undiminished, despite efforts by government, citizens' organizations and many individuals, and

"Whereas, the problems of crime touch and affect all segments of our society undermining and eroding the moral and economic strength of our communities and their citizens, and

"Whereas, there is still a reluctance on the part of many citizens to involve themselves in actions to insure the protection, rights and well-being of their fellow citizens, and

"Whereas, Optimist clubs and their members continue to sponsor and support programs

CHAMPIONSHIP BANNER is viewed by Venice High School Coach Richard Essington, left, after its presentation by Edward Foley, right, of the Venice Lions Club. The banner will be displayed at the high school in recognition of the Red Devils' class A state basketball title as an inspiration to future Red Devil teams, said Foley.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME BALL is presented to Red Devil Coach Richard Essington by Robert N. Vickers (right), superintendent of schools. The ball, signed by all the Venice players, will be placed in the Venice High School trophy case.

Venice quintet praised

The Venice High School basketball team, state champion of 1974-75 Class A (750 enrollment or less) competition, was lauded during the weekend by such speakers as State Rep. Joe Lucco, a former basketball coach, and Venice School Board President Jack Tolliver.

The gathering of 200 at the annual sports banquet, held at Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, applauded all the talks and was particularly responsive to Coach Richard Essington, according to him a standing ovation.

"Back in October," the coach said, "we had a long talk and the players spoke of the goal they wanted to accomplish. They worked hard to reach that goal."

He introduced the Red Devils, including Algie Crawford, James Crowder, James Turner, Jeff Corrie, Mike Henry and Mike Logan.

When he presented player Reggie Gardner, Essington remarked, "He has so much natural ability that we call him Mr. Smooth."

"Reggie has a great future in basketball and he has three brothers in grade school here. We are looking forward to having them on the team someday."

Recalling Gardner's field goal at the buzzer which gave Venice a victory at Champaign in one contest, Coach Essington said, "I jokingly told him it was about the only thing he had done right that particular night, but that he sure picked the right time to do it."

Essington commented on many of the players as he introduced the Red Devil squad.

He said that Logan, who started on the team last year but played as a sixth man on the championship team, may sign a contract to play basketball next year at Sanford-Brown Business College in St. Louis.

"James Crowder may have to fill some big shoes here next season, possibly as pivot man," the coach noted.

Essington cited James Turner, 5-10 junior guard, as being one of the best players in this region, including a spectacular performance against Watseka.

"Jeff Corrie has been the playmaker of the Red Devils, a dedicated player with potentially a great future in the sport."

"I remember that when he was in the fifth or sixth grade, he would dribble the ball down Broadway on his way to school."

Of Henry, Essington said, "Mike played a lot and worked hard for the team. He averaged 17 points a game and is truly an all-star."

"People always commented on his slim build, but he was always under the basket grabbing rebounds and stuffing them into the net for valuable points."

Venice Mayor Ebersold responded, "Can you believe I once weighed 125 pounds and was corkscrew champion of Venice, along with John Essington, Richard's father?"

"We haven't been on the map so prominently since the flood of 1993," Mayor William M. Ebersold reiterated. "Thanks to the coach and players, people once again know who we are."

"We have a great school system here," the mayor continued, "and through the efforts of school systems such as ours, this country will survive."

George T. Wilkins Sr., representing the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, presented a plaque citing the 1975 state championship.

He remarked, "I have officiated at sports events off and on for 30 years, and in my opinion the Red Devils are the best coached and best disciplined team I have ever seen on a basketball court."

"They have brought honor not only to Venice, but to the Tri-Cities area and the state of Illinois," Wilkins said.

Edward Foley, representing the Venice Lions Club, presented a banner inscribed, "Venice Red Devils, Illinois Class A 1975 state basketball champions."

Foley said, "We of the Lions Club followed the team all the way, and the state championship flames was probably sparked in that eight-overtime victory over Mascoutah during the Sparta tournament."

Robert N. Vickers, superintendent of schools, gave the championship game basketball, presented by all the players, to Coach Essington and then led the audience in chanting, "Yes, Red Devils, Yea, Red Devils."

VHS won the Sparta title by beating Marissa 79-46, Mascoutah 64-58 in the season's longest game and Sparta 77-65.

The Red Devils captured the Freeburg Christmas tourney by stopping Steelville 80-54, New Athens 74-45, Trenton Weslin 76-66 and Lebanon 80-59 for the title.

The Dupu regional went to Venice by 62-42 over Brooklyn Lovejoy, 76-50 over Columbia and 58-47 over Madison.

Sectional play at Vandalia was won by VHS 79-74 over Vandalia and 43-42 over Nokomis, and at the Charleston super-sectional it was Venice 59-58 over Carmi in a three-overtime contest.

"YOU HAVE BROUGHT HONOR," said Dr. George Wilkins Sr., "not only to Venice but to the entire local area." Representing the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, the former Illinois public instruction superintendent made the comment to Venice High School Coach Richard Essington, left, while presenting him with a plaque citing the 1974-75 state champion Class A basketball team.

At the "elite eight" state finals, Venice won 47-41 over Morrisonville, bashed Watseka 57-49 and in the championship game beat Timothy Christian 65-46.

There were two other overtime games in 1974-75—a 74-63 loss to Madison and a double-overtime win over Sumner 66-68.

The only other setback was a 59-52 loss to Sumner.

Other Red Devils wing were over Columbia 78-52, Vashon 67-50, Freeburg 59-48, Waterloo Gibault 91-53, Assumption 85-64, St. Paul of Highland 90-55, Lincoln 59-57 and 72-56, Valmeyer 90-50 and 85-40, Alton Marquette 91-62 and 80-54, Belleville St. Henry 69-44 and 73-44 and Wood River, 84-59.

Prayers were offered at the banquet by the Rev. Richard Bailey and the Rev. John O'Connell.

Principal Anna McKinney of Venice Grade School and Venice High School Principal Lewis E. Sabin spoke at the dinner, and the welcome was by Venice School Supt. Vickers.

Ken Perkins and Mary Donna Scaturro introduced Venice Grade School basketball players and cheerleaders, and Irene Hackett introduced VHS cheerleaders.

The grade school team won the Bunker Hill tournament enroute to a 14-2 season record.

"BE PROUD of your ethics, background and heritage which have led you to the 1975 Illinois High School Association Class A state basketball championship," State Rep. Joe Lucco told the Venice High School Red Devils during a sports banquet held in their honor during the weekend.

HAPPY MEMORIES of the state championship basketball season are discussed by Red Devil cager Algie Crawford, standing, and his coach, Richard Essington, seated, as Crawford obtains Essington's autograph at a banquet honoring the coach and players. Seated, at the center, is Mrs. Clarence Hand, wife of the assistant coach.

Area tornado season starts; know signal and precautions

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Press-Record Staff Writer
Their time on earth is short, and their destructive paths are rather small. But the march of these short-lived, local storms through populated areas leaves a path of terrible destruction.

In seconds, a tornado can transform a thriving street into a ruin, and hope into despair. Tornadoes most frequently happen in the midwestern, southern and central states from March to September.

Local civil defense officials, and the National Weather Service report that "tornado time" is here, as far as the bi-state metropolitan area is concerned.

Should a tornado be sighted in the immediate area, a steady blast of 3 to 5 minutes will be sounded on sirens, whistles, horns or similar devices throughout the Quad-Cities.

Tornadoes swept through Southern Illinois and Southeast Missouri Friday and winds reached speeds of 68 miles per hour in the St. Louis area shortly after 5 p.m.

Several trees were reported down in the Quad-City area and a large billboard on Highway 5, near A. O. Smith Corp., was twisted and partially collapsed.

The St. Louis region was under a tornado watch from 1 to 7 p.m. Friday. No siren warnings are sounded during a tornado watch period, only when a twister is actually sighted in the vicinity, CD officials stressed.

Authorities said a woman and two children were injured when a tornado touched down in the Oakville-New Minden area, damaging several houses, mobile homes and farm buildings in northern Washington County.

A mobile home was overturned and houses damaged near Ava. One home and many farm outbuildings were destroyed in Monroe County, near Red Bud.

Numerous accidents were reported in the area during the period of heavy rain early Friday evening. Few involved injuries.

Twisters were spotted north of Murphysboro, Ill., and Poplar Bluff and Cape Girardeau in Missouri, as the storm system moved northward.

At least eight planes were badly damaged at Lambert Field and power outages were experienced in areas of St. Louis County.

Civil defense officials stressed that when a tornado is sighted or the local siren network activated, all residents should take cover immediately.

In town, seek shelter, preferably in a steel reinforced building and stay away from windows.

In homes: The southwest corner of the lowest floor or in the basement offers greatest safety. People living in brick or stone houses should seek other shelter, if time permits, preferably in a storm cellar or basement of a frame house.

Electricity and fuel lines should be shut off, if possible, and windows on the north and east sides of the house may be opened to help reduce damage to the building.

Standing against the inside walls on the lower floors of an office building offers some protection.

In schools: Stay inside, especially if the school building is of good steel reinforced construction. Stay away from windows and remain near an inside wall on the lower floors when possible.

Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums with large, poorly-supported roofs.

In rural schools without reinforced construction, children and teachers should move to a ravine or ditch if a storm shelter is not available.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., April 24, 1976 Page 38

In large office buildings, employees should move to interior lower floors and remain away from windows at all times.

After a siren warning is heard, industrial plant personnel should be posted at strategic points to watch for approaching twisters and advise safety officers of immediate danger.

All business concerns, regardless of size, together with schools, hospitals and nursing homes, should have contingency plans to cover emergency conditions, such as a tornado-caused disaster, the CD officers emphasized.

Auditions for youth orchestra

Open auditions will be held for positions in all sections of the St. Louis Symphony Youth Orchestra except piano for the 1975-76 season on Saturday, May 24, beginning at 9 a.m. in Powell Symphony Hall.

Students from this area aged 12 through 21 are eligible to audition for membership in the orchestra, which meets weekly for rehearsals.

To obtain an application to audition, young musicians must send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Orchestra Manager Mrs. Edith Hougland, 7150 Wise Avenue, St. Louis 63117. Applicants must contact Mrs. Hougland to arrange an audition time during the day of May 24.

The Youth Orchestra was founded five years ago by Leonard Slatkin, associate principal conductor of the St. Louis Symphony, to familiarize talented young musicians with the discipline, atmosphere and repertoire of a professional orchestra. The youth group presents three concerts.

For further information, Quad-Cityans may telephone Mrs. Hougland at (314) 644-1696 or 647-8284.

On honor roll

Douglas Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wayne Griffith, 2804 Grand Ave., has been added to the honor roll at Culver-Stockton College, Canton, Mo.

Students named to the honor roll have achieved a semester grade point average of 3.0 or greater on a 4.0 scale. Griffith is a freshman at Culver-Stockton, where he was a member of the varsity football team. He is a 1974 graduate of Granite City High School South.

DIAL-A-STORY HAS BEGUN at the Granite City Public library. The "magic" telephone number is 876-1653 and may be called 24 hours a day. The first story is about Ferdinand, a little bull who liked to smell flowers. Mrs. Rose Bone of the children's department is testing the new device. Rick Foley, Venice, representing Wallace Electronics of Peoria, installed the equipment last week.

Dial-A-Story gets 532 calls in first 24 hours

The "Dial-A-Story" program initiated by the Granite City Public Library this month is a big success. In fact, it may be too big a success.

During its first 24 hours in operation, the automatic machine which answers the telephone and gives a short tape-recorded story, received 532 calls.

Children, first reading about the service in Thursday's Press-Record, were often disappointed as call after call led only to busy signals for the overloaded service.

Residents with telephone numbers close to the Dial-A-Story number also reported problems with the small fingers of the children mistaking the telephone.

One perturbed woman told one young caller after a wrong number call to Dial-A-Story, "Will you please check what number you're calling and dial carefully?"

Friday morning was no easier as youthful callers attempted to reach the service as early as 6 a.m., only to get a busy signal. The service was available for the persistent, as 532 of them did receive a free story the first day. If your child is persistent, the Dial-A-Story number is 876-1653.

Four new members of DeMolay chapter here

Paul Clinard, David Harley, John Seybert and William E. Skinner Jr. became members of James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, as part of a district class of 18 initiated at Jerseyville.

District officers conferred the initiatory degree and a district degree team conferred the DeMolay degree. The class was named the "Dr. Sylvester William Downey" class. Dr. Downey was on the Jerseyville DeMolay Chapter's advisory board and was 77 when he died last January. Dr. Downey became interested in DeMolay while residing in Pennsylvania.

At Jerseyville, he was instrumental in getting the Jerseyville Chapter chartered. Prior to Dr. Downey's efforts the members were organized as a club under the Alton Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

Taking part in the initiatory degree work from the local chapter were: Karl Eberhart, counselor; William Berger, standard bearer; Jeff Donley, second preceptor; Mark Doolittle, third preceptor; Dennis Worthen, fifth preceptor; and Thomas Eberhart, sixth preceptor.

William Berger also was on the DeMolay degree team. Other DeMolays attending from the local chapter were: Barry Church, Robert DeCourcy, Bruce Groshong, John Tolan, Anthony Tsigoloff, and Michael Worthen. They were accompanied by advisers Dr. Amos Rode and Charles Meyer, and Master Masters Max Clinard, John DeCourcy, Robert Harley and William E. Skinner Sr.

Budget meet still an issue

Louis Whitsett, supervisor of Nameoki Township, repeated allegations at the last Nameoki Township Board of Auditors meeting that Highway Commissioner Albert Bell called an illegal closed meeting of some township residents to help prepare his department's annual budget.

Whitsett expressed disapproval over statements issued by Bell and Town Clerk Douglas Teetor, defending Bell's position in calling the meeting. Bell and Teetor explained the meeting was held for an invited group of township residents to review the budget and make suggestions. They contended the closed meeting was legal, since no public business was conducted.

Whitsett disagreed and after the meeting showed law books which, he contended, made it clear that any meeting called by a public official must be open to the public and must be announced. The law provides exceptions only for discussions of personnel, salaries and land purchases.

The auditors objected after the highway department's budget was submitted for approval that they did not know of the meeting to help prepare it. A motion was presented by Hessler and was approved, requiring all correspondence which is to be read at a town board meeting be submitted by the Thursday before the meeting. Later correspondence would be read only at the request of a board member, according to the motion.

Several board members had objected that letters are being submitted a short time before board meetings and are being read before the board has had an opportunity to review them.

The Town Board and Board of Health voted to advertise for bids for the purchase of a used three-quarter-ton pickup truck needed for the mosquito abatement program.

Bell noted that charges for legal publication of notices had exceeded his estimates and he did not have enough funds in his account to pay for the publications. The board voted to pay the bill from the contingencies fund.

Bids on furniture for the town hall, which is being expanded, were reviewed and the auditing committee agreed to give the bids further study when the committee meets Monday night, April 21, to audit the township's books. It was reported the county building inspector had found some brickwork in the addition to the town hall did not meet county specifications and the architect had ordered changes made to meet the county's requirements. The addition is under construction.

Whitsett reported he has received a $12,515 federal revenue sharing check for the township, covering the third quarter of the fifth entitlement period.

Auditor Eugene Gargac was selected to represent the board on the newly-formed Madison County Township Officials' Association.

Imports hurting sales of domestic steel firms

Foreign steel retained a large share of the domestic steel market in February, despite a drop in import tonnage, newly completed figures show. Domestic steel shipments during the month fell to their lowest level in two and a half years.

GROUPS WILL MEET Lewis and Clark Community College's Student Senate will host two state student groups this weekend.

The Association of Illinois Student Governments and the Organization of Community College Students will both hold their statewide meetings at the Godfrey college Friday through Sunday.

In February, U. S. mills sent their customers 5,978,000 tons of finished steel. This was a drop of 1,346,000 tons from January's 8,324,000 tons of shipments, and was the lowest one-month shipment total since July 1972. This meant that the 1,192,000 tons of steel imported in February accounted for more than 15 per cent of the apparent steel supply in this country during the month.

The impact on specialty steels was even greater. Imports accounted for nearly 24 per cent of the stainless steel supply, and more than 30 per cent of the tool steel supply during the month. Hourly costs of $10.06 compared with a $9.08 average for 1974, including the costs of such employee benefits as pensions, insurance, supplemental unemployment benefits, the non-payroll portion of savings and vacation plan costs, and legally-required payroll taxes. Domestic steel industry employment fell during February; 491,400 persons were engaged in the production and marketing of steel, a drop of 5,200 from the previous month's 496,600.

At the same time, total employment cost per hour for wage earners continued rising. It reached $10.06 per hour in February — an increase of 20 cents an hour from $9.86 the month before.

During February, steel producers paid $636,566,000 in wages and salaries, bringing the total of such payments through the first two months of 1975 to $1,214,161,000. Hourly costs of $10.06 compared with a $9.08 average for 1974, including the costs of such employee benefits as pensions, insurance, supplemental unemployment benefits, the non-payroll portion of savings and vacation plan costs, and legally-required payroll taxes.

The date covers employees engaged in the production and marketing of steel and excludes those in mining, fabricating and other non-steel operations.

Public hearing April 29 on Venice Title VII project

A public hearing will be held Tuesday, April 29, at 7:15 p.m. in the Venice High School Library to discuss the Venice School District proposal for the continuation of the Venice Title VII project and a possible pilot project geared to eliminate minority group isolation and possible discrimination, according to Mrs. Alpha Cross, director of Title VII Project MICRO (Mathematics, Interpersonal Relations, Communication and Reading Opportunities).

The Title VII amendment which is a part of the Emergency School Aid Act provides funds for three board purposes:

To meet the special needs incident to the elimination of minority group segregation and discrimination among students and faculty in elementary and secondary schools.

To encourage the voluntary elimination, reduction, or prevention of minority group isolation in elementary and secondary schools with substantial proportions of minority group students.

To aid school children in overcoming the educational disadvantages of minority group isolation.

A districtwide advisory council has been formed and has aided in the implementation of the three goals for the Venice Schools this year, which were to improve the reading and mathematics achievement of the students and to improve interpersonal relations and communication among the staff, the students and the community. They will be involved in developing and implementing the proposal for 1975-76 prior to its submission.

Members of the advisory committee are Verla Arnold, chairman; Tille McMorahan, secretary; Donna Hoover, assistant secretary; Linda Freeman, Florence Durr, Herman Smith, Estell Wilbourn, Joe Willie Roberts, Jeanette Wilkinson, Carrie Matkins, June McClain, Al DeLay, Barbara Bailey, Charlotte Bilyre, Clark Ray, Sandra Sanders, Terri Varner, Sister Bernadette, Ila Fleg, Rev. John O'Connell, Janice Blatz, Myrtle Parker, Mrs. Eddie Barbee and Michael Logan.

The Journalism Foundation of Metropolitan St. Louis will award seven $600 Journalism scholarships at the sixth annual Journalism Foundation Dinner on Friday, April 25, at 7 p.m. in the Jefferson Hotel.

Greg. Melvin Price of the 23rd Illinois District, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, will deliver the Donald L. Ramey Memorial Lecture as part of the evening's program.

Tickets for the dinner are $12.50 per person. Reservations, open to the public, may be made by calling the Press Club at (314) 241-5397. Proceeds will go to support scholarships for Journalism students.

A 6 p.m. social hour in the Press Club at the Jefferson Hotel will precede the dinner.

Public to help state chart social services

Public hearings will be held throughout Illinois in late April and early May to hear comments on the social service programs offered by four state agencies.

Input from citizens and community groups will figure in the drafting of a comprehensive plan of action for the state, an inter-agency task force announced.

The hearings have been called by the Departments of Children-Family Services, Corrections, Mental Health-Developmental Disabilities, and Public Aid.

Residents of St. Clair, Madison, Clinton, Washington, Randolph and Monroe counties are to appear in East St. Louis on Tuesday, April 29. Testimony will be heard from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Mary Brown Center, 15th Street and Piggott Avenue.

Task force members of the four agencies involved are asking those who testify to assess the adequacy of the state's existing social services programs and the needs of its citizens.

In Illinois, the programs include assistance like day care, mental health services, parole programs and family services.

Participants also will be encouraged to submit ideas for improving or amending the services offered. The testimony is expected to identify the social service priorities of the people of Illinois.

Representatives of the four agencies who are familiar with regional human services needs and the programs currently being offered will sit on the panels. Nine hearings have been scheduled.

Oral presentations must be confined to 10 minutes, but the panel will accept written testimony. The letter can be delivered the day of the hearing or mailed to the Bureau of Social Services, Illinois Department of Public Aid, 209 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago 60606.

The public's participation in drafting the state's master social services plan has been mandated by amendments to Title XX of the Social Security Act. A major provision requires that Illinois develop a comprehensive services plan for its social services program by Oct. 1. The plan, if approved, would be funded through June 30, 1977.

Under Title XX, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare will make available a total of $2.5 billion for acceptable social service programs through the end of fiscal 1976.

Illinois' share of that money is $135 million and is to be earmarked for existing services as well as any new programs introduced as a result of the public hearings.

Social services are intended to help those in need to become more self-sufficient and more self-supporting.

The Illinois plan will address itself to training for marketable skills, education, abused or neglected adults and children, broken families, community and home based care and improved institutional care.

For more information on the East St. Louis hearing, Quad-Cityans may call Leona Franklin at 234-7910.

International editors to be based at DeKalb

Weekly newspaper editors from more than a dozen countries have moved the headquarters of their international organization to Northern Illinois University's department of journalism.

The International Society of Weekly Newspaper Editors (ISWNE) will be based in the NIU department at DeKalb. It notes that the department has a "historical commitment to community and suburban journalism."

Members of the society are located in nations from England and Canada to India and Taiwan.

The society was founded in 1954 at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. The organization's purpose is to encourage and promote informed and independent editorial comment in weekly newspapers throughout the world.

ISWNE, through its publications and annual conference, aims at providing weekly editors with a means to exchange ideas and viewpoints.

The 1975 conference, marking ISWNE's 21st birthday, will be held this summer at NIU's Lorado Taft Field Campus near Oregon, Ill. The editors will hear sessions on topics ranging from education to the economy and from mental health to problems faced by black Americans.

I making the move of its headquarters to NIU and the conference to the Taft Campus, ISWNE announced the appointment of Dr. Ryan J. Kummerfeldt, assistant professor of journalism, as executive secretary and treasurer.

Kummerfeldt, a former newspaperman and NIU news bureau head, has been involved in community journalism instruction. He is acting head of the department's community and suburban newspaper sequence.

"Northern's journalism department has established its concern and its continuing support for community and suburban newspapers," Kummerfeldt said.

"The decision of ISWNE to come to NIU will strengthen the department's work with weekly newspapers. Students also will be helped by closer contact with the community newspaper field."

Program for summer jobs

A program for finding summer jobs for job seekers between the ages of 14 and 21 exists in the Quad-City area, sponsored by the Illinois State Employment Service and Co-Ordinated Youth Services.

Anyone interested in hiring youths to work this summer, or if anyone needs a job this summer, they may contact Ron Delaney at the Illinois State Employment Service, 1820 Cleveland Blvd., (451-5756) between 1 and 3 p.m. or the Co-Ordinated Youth office, 1253 Niedringhaus Ave. (876-2383) between 3 and 5 p.m. An appointment may be scheduled if necessary.

Many young people who seek summer jobs must earn money for school, high school or college expenses, ISES officials said.

It has been established that 90 per cent of the youths that have found jobs through this program need work in order to continue their education. Very few are just seeking spending money, it was said.

130 attend Protestant Welfare annual banquet

The Rev. J. Albert Callaway, pastor of Tri-City Park Tabernacle, addressed the annual banquet of the Protestant Welfare Association, Inc., at the Keionia Center, 24th Street and Madison Avenue. One hundred and thirty-three persons attended the dinner meeting.

Kenneth Whittington, first vice-president of the group, chairman of the Planning Committee, served as master of ceremonies for the evening.

The Rev. Marvin Peters, pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the invocation.

The closing prayer was offered by the Rev. Richard Unger, minister at St. Paul Church of the Nazarene.

Special music was presented by an adult quartet directed by Norman Fenton of Central Free Methodist Church. Two groups of children also sang.

Assisting with the arrangements were Miss Frances Lynch and Mr. Fenton. Clarence Baumeier, president, introduced the other officers who will serve this year. They are Bryan Waggoner, second vice-president; Roy M. Lynn, treasurer; Mrs. Irma Taylor, executive secretary; Mrs. Marie Whittle, office secretary, and Mrs. Gladys Woker, assistant secretary.

The president gave a resume of the association's programs, stating that 32 churches and three organizations belong to the group and that ministers of the churches, also serve as directors, counsel with people in addition to assisting them with material items.

Emergency aid is given until clients can make applications with specific agencies concerning their particular problems.

Baumeier added that 1,295 persons were interviewed during 1974, with 314 emergency relief orders issued for food, rent, utilities, medicine, clothing and 54 Christmas grocery orders to the elderly.

Protestant Welfare also will accept foster home applications on a referral basis and will lend wheel chairs, hospital beds, walkers and crutches to area residents, he added.

The association has participated for the past five years with the Mobile Meals program by providing volunteer workers from churches and civic organizations.

Although most of the funds received by Protestant Welfare are from the United Way, additional donations are needed to continue the Mobile Meals project since some of the people served have such low incomes they cannot pay, the meeting was told.

The Rev. C. Dale Edwards, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, who originally was scheduled to speak at the banquet, became ill and is now recuperating at his home.

Officer captures burglary suspect

Greg P. Tomlinson, 18, of 2116 Miracle Ave., was charged with burglary and resisting arrest after a police officer was hurt while trying to arrest him at Wabash and Cottage avenues during the weekend.

A police officer said he noticed two boys on bicycles pulling a third bicycle behind them.

The officer said he tried to grab one youth, who picked up a yard decoration having a concrete base supporting a blue glass ball.

The youth threw the decoration at the officer, striking his head, it was alleged.

The policeman said he chased the youth, fired a warning gunshot in the air and managed to strike the youth's head with the butt of his gun to stop him.

He handcuffed the suspect and then attempted to stop the second boy, who was on another bicycle, but was unsuccessful.

The third bicycle was found abandoned at the Nameoki Exchange Ditch a short time later. Officers found a shoe which they believe the boy who escaped had lost in the mud as he ran across the ditch.

A short time later, Ed McGovern, 3125 Edgewood Ave., reported a bicycle had been stolen from his garage. He identified one of the bicycles the police recovered.

Entry to his garage was gained through the rear door, he said.

Tomlinson was taken to a hospital, where he was treated for a scalp injury and returned to police custody.

Three juvenile girls and a 12-year old boy are being questioned by Granite City juvenile authorities in connection with the theft of a tape recorder from the learning center of St. Joseph School, 2118 Edison Ave., at 5:15 p.m. Sunday.

A school administrator said she saw three girls run from the school building and she stopped one girl to ask why they were inside.

The girl said they had used the washroom. She was released but officials later found several rooms inside the school had been entered and cigarette butts and potato chip bags had been thrown on the floor in several areas of the building.

East Bank players' melodrama to start here Friday

MY HERO! Safe from the villain's overtures at last, Cathy Cassy, in the role of Nellie Quackenbush, turns an adoring gaze on her hero, Noble Hart, portrayed by Michael Tharp. The scene is from a melodrama set to music. The East Bank Players' show will have its public debut Friday. Repeat performances are scheduled Saturday night and May 2.

A chance to hiss, boo or cheer while seated in a relaxed cabaret setting will be afforded patrons at the East Bank Players' production, "No, No, A Million Times No!" to be presented Friday and Saturday at the Mexican Honorary Commission Hall, 1801 Spruce St. (former Hungarian Home). The presentation will be repeated Friday, May 2, in the 300 Room of Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl. All three performances will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained in advance of the show dates from Players' members, Tri-Cities Area YMCA, House of Stanley, Mendoza Sporting Goods and the Mexican Commission Hall.

The musical has all the traditions of an old-style melodrama, complete with noble hero, virtuous heroine in distress and arch villain.

Cast in the role of Stanley Blackman, villain, extraordinary, is Jim Pensternman, a trust officer in the Bethalto School District.

Pensternman has appeared in the Players' "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and with the Masquers, Inc. of Collinsville, with roles in "Cabaret," "Wait Until Dark," "Fiddler on the Roof" and "The Fantasticks."

His face also is familiar to SIUE theatre-goers from such productions as "Glass Menagerie," "The Rivals," "Death of a Salesman," "Spoon River Anthology," "All Wilderness," "Twelfth Night" and "Marat-Sade."

Pensternman's counterpart and girl friend, Gwendolyn Finefeathers, in "No, No," will be played by Peggy (Peach) Motson, a graduate assistant in Speech Education and Learning Disabilities at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Peggy received her BA degree with honors at SIUE in speech pathology and audiology. Currently, she is helping to teach special education classes and working in the area of diagnosis and remediation at the SIUE Diagnostic Center. She plans to be a special education diagnostician. At present she holds a learning disabilities teachers certificate. Peggy studied dance at SIUE and was in the East Bank Players' first production, "Guys and Dolls," later appearing in "Music Man" and "Gypsy." She is married to Harold W. Holton, a Prudential insurance Co. agent.

Portraying the "pure as the driven snow" heroine, Nellie Quackenbush, is Catherine "Cathy" Cassy, a fifth grade teacher at Parkview School and an SIUE graduate.

She is married to Gene Cassy, an audio-visual technician at Meramec Junior College, Kirkwood, Mo., whom she met during the East Bank Players' first production, "Guys and Dolls," five years ago.

After their marriage, the Cassys moved to Phoenix, Ariz., for two years, but rejoined the East Bank Players upon their return. Cassy is responsible for all photographs involving the local theatrical company.

Also an SIUE graduate with a BS degree in education and a minor in theater is Michael "Mike" Tharp, who plays the hero, Noble Hart.

An original member of the East Bank Players, Tharp is the group's current president.

He is employed as program director at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA, and he and his wife, Julie, live in Granite City.

Tharp was Benny Southstreet in "Guys and Dolls"; Moon Face Martin in "Anything Goes"; Melius Glorioso in "A Funny Thing Happened..."; and the bass quartet member in "Music Man."

Henry and Ruth Lamb have appeared together in three previous Players' productions — "Gypsy," "Music Man" and "Guys and Dolls."

In "No, No, A Million Times No!" Mrs. Lamb has the role of Birdie Seed, the farmer's housekeeper. Her husband portrays the farmer, Amos "Peggy" Quackenbush.

The couple has four children, Jeffery and Dawn, students at Granite City High School South, and Shannon and Jonathan, who are Frohardt pupils. The parents were producers for the former "Starfinders Children Theatre," consisting of pupils from Coolidge and Frohardt schools. Active in many civic groups, Mrs. Lamb is a volunteer worker in the surgery department at St. Elizabeth TOGETHER AGAIN. Diane Schwendemann and Mark Stephens, both 1974 High School South, who will play Emmeline, the farmer's hired girl, and Ifly Cann, a young country boy, in the East Bank Players' musical. Performances at 8:15 p.m. will be given Friday and Saturday at the Mexican Commission Hall, 1801 Spruce St., and at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl, Friday, May 2.

Hospital and recording secretary for the St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary. She is treasurer and board member of the Madison County Mental Health Clinic and a past president of Paddlers Swim Team Parents Club.

Her husband, a past president of the Paddlers board of directors and a pack committeeman for Cub Pack 22.

She is interested in interior design and architecture and has hopes of becoming an airline stewardess or possible a professional actress. Her hobbies include sewing reading and making art works out of everyday items.

Diane also enjoys tennis, biking, swimming, soccer, bowling, softball and hiking. She has a keen interest in dance, ranging from classical, folk, jazz to modern.

Mark Stephens, also a '74 South graduate, is deeply interested in all aspects of the theatre world. While in high school he played "Mordred" in "Camelot" and with the Masquers he recently portrayed the White Rabbit in "Alice in Wonderland."

Earlier, he played in "Fiddler."

He has the part of "Ifly Cann," a young country boy, in "No, No." Mark has an extensive collection of original Broadway musical cast albums and purchases scripts to ac-

Annuitants group to hear Gibala

Problems of the State Universities Retirement System will be examined by guest speaker Edward S. Gibala at the April 28 spring meeting of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Annuitants Association.

Gibala, executive director of the State Universities Retirement System, will discuss current proposed legislation and funding for the system.

The meeting will be held in the SIUE Science Building, Room 1105, from 2:30 until 4:30 p.m. Gibala's presentation is open to faculty, staff and others interested in the retirement system. A question-answer session will follow the speech. Irvin H. Parrill, program chairman for the event, said, "The failure of the State of Illinois to fund the retirement system adequately should be of personal concern to every employee on campus."

"I hope the room will be full of people anxious to learn more about the legal basis for the retirement system as put forth in the 1967 statute and the Illinois State Constitution, the violation of law and contracts with individual employees committed by not funding legislative proposals passed by legislature and vetoed by the governor, and the current status of legislative and legal actions."

The use of liquid fertilizer has become more popular with farmers. Aqueous (aqueous) ammonia is one such fertilizer. It is a solution of anhydrous ammonia in water similar to household ammonia, but more concentrated.

Aqueous ammonia is not usually stored in pressure-type containers, but don't consider it strictly a non-pressure fluid. On hot days it vaporizes readily, so pressure can build up in the supply tank and in other parts of the system.

The hazards of handling aqueous ammonia are similar to those for anhydrous ammonia. It has the same powerful choking odor, and strong solutions can cause severe burns. As with anhydrous ammonia, getting aqueous ammonia into your eyes can be very dangerous. Vision is nearly always impaired and blindness can result.

It is suggested that persons handling aqueous ammonia wear rubber gloves and goggles. Keep plenty of water in the work area for washing in case of an accident. Get medical attention if you are exposed to ammonia gas.

Plant corn early if possible. Yields will be higher on the average. In addition, the plants will be shorter and ears lower and more uniform in height. In Southern Illinois, corn can be planted anytime after April 1.

There are some hazards of early planting. They include a poor stand because of a cold, wet soil. Weed problems may be greater if the soil should become too wet for timely cultivation. There are possibilities of having some injury from spring frost, though this is usually not too serious in corn.

when soil conditions are suitable. You may use soil temperatures as a guide in deciding whether to start planting in April or May. Below are some general guidelines in deciding when to plant.

Plant when the temperature at 7 a.m. reaches 50 degrees F. at the two-inch level. This will assure a temperature favorable for growth during most of a 24-hour period if there is an appreciable amount of sunshine.

Plant when the temperature at 1 p.m. reaches 55 degrees F. at the four-inch level. The four-inch level is suggested for the 1.00 p.m. measurement because this level is not affected as much as the two-inch level by a single day of bright sunshine.

After the first of May, you can plant if the soil is dry enough even though the temperature is below the suggested guidelines. When you intentionally delay planting after soil conditions are right, you have lost control of your date of planting. Wet weather may set in and keep you out of the field far beyond the optimum date. The average yield reduction for planting ten days too early is less than from planting ten days too late.

There are some hazards of early planting. They include a poor stand because of a cold, wet soil. Weed problems may be greater if the soil should become too wet for timely cultivation. There are possibilities of having some injury from spring frost, though this is usually not too serious in corn.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

—The amount of marbling required for younger cattle to grade "choice" and "prime" is reduced slightly. Marbling is the dispersion of fat in the meat.

—Marbling requirements are changed to provide a more uniform "good" grade.

—Conformation (shape of the carcass) will no longer be used as a quality grading factor.

—All beef that is quality-graded must also be yield-graded. Yield grading attempts to determine the differences in amounts of retail cuts that will be obtained from different beef carcasses.

From 100 pounds of choice wholesale beef carcass, less than 75 pounds of retail beef cuts are obtained. Some of the reduction is due to removal of bones and cutting loss. But the major part of this weight reduction comes from trimming fat to make cuts acceptable at the retail counter.

This fat trim has a very low value, and a reduction in its quantity will reduce labor in handling beef and save feed required to put it on.

Cattle feeders usually finish a high percentage of their cattle to choice grade because of the higher price. In the past, cattle have been fed to heavier weights than would be necessary under the new grading standards. By reducing the marbling requirements for choice grade, cattle will be marketed at lighter weights with less fat covering.

This will provide a saving in feed cost because, as cattle become heavier, feed costs go up. For example, it takes much more feed to put on the last 25 pounds in the feedlot than it does the first 25.

Grading changes will make the grades more in line with industry practice. Many retailers have found that many cattle just under the choice grade are very acceptable to consumers.

This beef has been purchased at a lower cost and merchandised under a store brand or trademark. It has competed successfully with choice beef sold at other stores.

Some of this beef will now be graded choice and the percentage of beef reaching choice grade by the new standards will increase. However, its market will also increase as more outlets now using ungraded beef will be forced to move to it as a source of supply.

INTRUDER PRIES DOOR

Returning home from the grocery store during the weekend, Joe Palmer, 528 College St., Venice, found a burglar had pried open the rear door and removed a gold watch and a portable television from the dwelling.

He was ordained into the priesthood in Rome by Cardinal Respighi on June 1, 1912, and came to the United States in October of that year. Father Costello returned to his native land several times.

An avid hunter and fisherman, he was a member of the Advisory Board of the Illinois Game and Fish Conservation Association and enjoyed playing golf.

During his lifetime as a spiritual leader, he was appropriately honored at the celebration of his 25th anniversary in the priesthood in June 1937 and in June 1962 on the 40th anniversary of his ordination. In October 1969, Bishop O'Connor appointed him to the position of consultant of the diocese.

The highest honor came to him on March 10, 1961, when he was elevated by Pope John XXIII in the rank of domestic prelate with the title of right reverend monsignor.

He received the Papal blessing and was invested in monsignorial robes on June 13, 1961, in ceremonies at Sacred Heart Church performed by Bishop O'Connor. A month later, in the 50th year of his priesthood, in tribute, Bishop O'Connor cited Monsignor Costello as being the most prominent priest in the Springfield diocese.

During the intervening years, Monsignor Costello saw many advances beginning in 1948 when he was named as the new parish priest in the Springfield diocese.

In May 1957, Anthony E. Michel was appointed trustee to replace the late Hermon J. Hoff who died in St. Louis.

The celebration of the 50th anniversary of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church on Friday and Saturday establishes a milestone in the religious history of this community.

On Friday, a program and dinner for parishioners will be held at the Croatian Hall in Madison beginning with a social hour at 6 p.m. and followed by the anniversary program, dinner and later dancing to the music of "Four of a Kind."

A 5 p.m. mass of Thanksgiving will be celebrated by Bishop William A. O'Connor of Springfield on Saturday.

The Rev. James P. Hill, pastor, will deliver the homily and the Rev. Kevin Sullivan, former assistant pastor, will serve as master of ceremonies. Building a house of worship is the beginning for any congregation, but through the years the organization of various programs and the impact of a dedicated and beloved leader results in a successful and satisfying venture for those involved.

Sacred Heart Catholic Church became a reality June 15, 1924, when the Most Rev. James A. Griffin, bishop of Springfield, made his first visit to Granite City, and announced the establishment of the parish. During the summer months, parish property at Washington Avenue and 26th Street was purchased.

The Rev. Michael Costello, who was assigned to St. Elizabeth Catholic Church in Mitchell, was appointed pastor of Sacred Heart parish.

The new parish formally was opened at a solemn pontifical field mass by Bishop Griffin on Sept. 21, 1924, in a portable building which was erected to serve approximately 100 families.

A proud record of improved church facilities, religious activities, civic and community associations, for the benefit of the parishioners and city residents, provided a monument for the Rev. Costello who served here 40 years until his death on April 13, 1964, at the age of 75.

Born in County Kerry, Ireland, Father Costello was educated at St. Michael College, Listowel, and St. Brendan's Seminary in Kilarney. He studied philosophy and theology at All Hallows College in Dublin, and attended the North American College in Rome.

In May 1957, Anthony E. Michel was appointed trustee to replace the late Hermon J. Hoff who died in St. Louis.

A. J. Ellerman was the contractor for the building consisting of a church-auditorium with a seating capacity of over 500, four school rooms and a large basement for parish activities.

The first baptism in the new structure was that of William John Vorwald on July 26, 1925. His ancestors were the original owners of the grounds where the church was built.

However, the initial church records shows the first baptism in the temporary church was that of Alice Mary Coleman on Nov. 5, 1924, and the sacrament of matrimony was first administered to Merville Edward Doyle and Miss Esther Johanna Morris on Oct. 18, 1924.

At that time Harry L. Evans and John J. Murray were appointed parish trustees.

Sacred Heart School opened on Sept. 1, 1925, with 170 children enrolled. Sister M. Alphonsus of the Ursuline Sisters of Springfield was the first principal.

In 1927, the old church was renovated into a home for the nuns, with furnishings donated by Walter Dennis. Painting and redecorating was completed by the Altar Society under the direction of Mrs. John L. Margaret Moran, following plans submitted by Mrs. A. H. Ellerman and Mrs. B. Fietz.

Sister Mary Karla is the current school principal, and has served since 1971 when she came here from Cathedral School in Springfield.

Unhappy events were also to be faced with the arrival of the depression in this area in 1931. The financial records of the church at the end of 1932 showed a total balance of 12 cents and in 1941, with World War II approaching, over 60 young men of the parish joined the Armed Forces. Parishioners then donated funds to buy war bonds for the boys in service.

Prosperity came again to the country and in 1947 a new convent was built, structurally incorporating the old convent building which previously had been the original church, and a new school wing was built.

The Dominican Sisters replaced the Ursuline Sisters in 1951 and began teaching the 450 children enrolled in September 1952.

Other historical advancements of the church and school were noted with the construction of a 14-room rectory in June 10, 1953, and additional classrooms provided in July 1956. In October 1956, a campaign was launched for a new church.

In May 1957, Anthony E. Michel was appointed trustee to replace the late Hermon J. Hoff who died in St. Louis.

On Aug. 10, 1958, the first Sunday services were conducted in the new church by Father John Gorman who celebrated his first solemn mass. He was the first of the parish to be ordained to the priesthood.

Bishop O'Connor officially dedicated the new church on Oct. 5, 1958, with 100 priests and over 1,000 persons attending.

Expansion of the church and school program again was needed and in May 1960 a Sacred Heart school annex was built on diocesan property on St. Charles Avenue in 1961. On Oct. 5, 1968, with 100 priests and over 1,000 persons attending.

Bible Deliverance revival at Mitchell

Evangelist Ken Krivohlavak of Springfield, Mo., is scheduled to begin a Bible Deliverance revival campaign at 7 p.m. Sunday at Mitchell Assemblies of God Church.

The revival series will continue each evening at 7 o'clock through Sunday, May 4, at the Mitchell church, which is located on West Chain of Rocks Road, south of Interstate 270 and one mile east of Illinois Route 3. The visiting evangelist also will preach at the May 4 morning worship service at 10:45.

According to the Rev. E. L. Aubuchon, pastor of the host church, the evangelist's ministry emphasizes the Biblical promises of healing and comfort for the human spirit, mind and body.
